PRICE FIVE CENTS

VANCOUVER NARROWS BRIDGE SPAN KNOCKED DOWN

Wheat Prices At Winnipeg Lowest Since Year 1906

October Future Drops to 77½ Cents a Bushel; November at 79 Cents, December 80½ Cents and May 86½ Cents; Losses Since Yesterday 2 to 2½ Cents a Bushel.

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Sept. 19.—Heavy offerings swamped the wheat market here to-day and the lowest price levels ever reached on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, as established to-day were recorded.

October reached a bottom level of 77½ cents a bushel, closing only one-eighth of a cent above that mark. To find a parallel it is necessary to go back to the season of 1906-07 when, on the old Produce Exchange, No. 1 Northern wheat sold at 70½ cents and the October future at 69 cents a bushel.

LOSS OVER TWO CENTS
The November future finished the day at 79 to 79½ cents; December at 80½ cents, and May at 86½ cents. These final figures represented net losses for the day ranging from 2 to 2½ cents a bushel.

Weakness at Liverpool and Chicago was the main factor in the drastic decline. A moderate export business was worked on the scale down, but the buying was never equal to the offerings.

Wounded Man's Story Renews Police Hunt

Rancher Accused of Fatal Shooting Not Yet Found in Chilcotin

Police Reject Theory C. Spencer Ended His Life

Williams Lake, B.C., Sept. 19.—Investigation is being continued regarding the tragedy of a week ago when Edward Smith was shot to death and Walter H. Stoddard seriously wounded.

Information that was designed, or in the general confusion, accidentally withheld, is known now to be in police possession and it is considered it will lead to the finding of Conrad Spencer, rancher, accused of doing the shooting, in a short time. The theory that he committed suicide is not now taken seriously by the police. If he had taken his own life it could have been shown shortly after the shooting of Smith and Stoddard, and there would have been no difficulty in locating the body, it is thought.

LOMAS CASE IS ADJOURNED

Special to The Times
Duncan, Sept. 19.—Pending further investigation of the case by W. E. Ditchburn, commissioner of Indian Affairs at Victoria, the case of A. H. Lomas, Indian agent here, charged with the theft of over $12,000 in government funds, was again adjourned when it came up for hearing before Magistrate J. Maitland-Douglas this morning.

Preliminary hearing of the charge was set for Thursday, September 25. It is understood Mr. Ditchburn will be a material witness for the prosecution.

BENNETT IS ASKED TO STATE HIGHWAY BUILDING PROPOSALS

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—Information from the government regarding its proposed construction of a national highway is sought by A. E. MacLean, Liberal, Prince Edward Island, in questions placed on the order paper of the House of Commons. The queries follow:

"1. Is it the intention of the government to link up the various provinces of the Dominion with a national highway?"

ANDREE BOOK TELLS OF LOSS OF BALLOON

Diary Reveals Party Came Down on Arctic Ice July 14, 1897

Balloon Dragged Gondola Along Ice For Miles Before End Came

Stockholm, Sept. 19.—Details of the disaster that overtook Salomon August Andree's pioneer balloon expedition thirty-three years ago have been revealed by examination of the diary found on the body of the explorer on White Island by Dr. Gunnar Horn's party.

The balloon, it is now definitely established, came down on the ice July 14, 1897, three days after the Andree party had set out from Danes Island, Spitzbergen.

The explorers landed on the ice at latitude 83 north, longitude 30 east.

The diary, however, leaves obscure the cause of the landing.

FIRE PUT OUT
Fire started on the balloon, the diary reveals, at 7 p.m. on the day previous (July 13). It was immediately extinguished.

Apparently it caused little serious damage, for the last entry in the diary referring to the balloon's voyage says: "The balloon again rose, but both valves were then opened in preparation for a landing."

Previous entries show that weather, ice and bear frost had weighed down the big gas bag, and the explorers had been dragged along the ice many times during the latter part of the flight from Spitzbergen.

The dumping against the ice completely exhausted the explorers. The position given is almost due north of White Island. It is on a line between the island and the North Pole, goal of the heroic pioneers of aerial exploration. It is less than half way between the two points, being 500 miles, and from White Island roughly 200 miles.

The distance, therefore, covered a 300-mile trek back to the camp where they died.

HOSPITAL PAYS $40 A PINT FOR BLOOD

Vancouver, Sept. 19.—Dr. H. W. Hill, director of laboratories at the Vancouver General Hospital, announces the institution will pay $40 a pint for blood from persons who have had infantile paralysis.

Those who have been stricken with the disease and have recovered, even though they may still have the paralysis, are eligible, the doctor states.

Administration of blood in the form of a serum from those who have had the disease is the only method medical men know to counteract the affliction, and they desire to communicate with these persons as soon as possible. The price of $40 a pint is considerably higher than the price paid before.

Dr. E. T. Underhill, medical health officer, announces there are two confirmed cases of infantile paralysis in the hospital. One of the patients is aged twenty-one and the other 11.

BANK ROBBERS PLAGUE TOWNS OF U.S. PLAINS

With Four Yesterday, Hold-ups Carried Out Since September 3 Total Eighteen

Thugs Who Looted Hay Springs, Neb., Bank Believed Using Airplane

Chicago, Sept. 19.—An epidemic of bank robberies is sweeping like a September storm across the United States plains.

Eighteen farm belt banks have been looted at the points of guns since September 3. Bums totaling more than $130,000 have been taken. There were four bank holdups yesterday alone.

The robber bands have moved by motor car and even airplane over the same territory as that "worked" by the James boys half a century ago. From Missouri to the Canadian line they have drawn guns on bank cashiers and roared away with their loot.

Yesterday's bank robberies were at Wesley and Hardy, Iowa; Clifford, Mo., and Hay Springs, Nebraska.

FLAME SEEN
The Hay Springs robbery gave authorities their first intimation bank robbers may have resorted to planes. A plane landed in a field near the northwestern Nebraska village yesterday morning. Shortly afterwards it disappeared. In the interim the First National Bank had been robbed by five men of $14,000.

ROBBERY IN IDAHO
Moscow, Idaho, Sept. 19.—An unmasked robber, using a threatening note to the cashier, took $150 in small currency from the Moscow State Bank about 12:30 p.m. to-day and fled, pursued by a sheriff's posse.

BODY OF WOMAN FOUND IN LAKE THIS AFTERNOON

Saanich Police Have Not Identified Corpse Taken From Elk Lake

The body of a well-dressed, middle-aged woman was taken from Elk Lake, near Hamsterley Lakeside, at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon by members of the Saanich police force. The men who helped to recover the body were Colin Campbell, a bystander; Chief of Police Rankin and Constable Bull. As yet no clue as to the identity of the woman has been discovered.

The woman's hair was black and shingled, and she was wearing a checkered black and white dress, black gloves and fawn silk stockings. No rings were on her fingers, and as far as can be learned there were nothing about her person that might serve as a means of identification.

At the time of going to press the body was being brought to town. A doctor had been summoned to examine the body and ascertain how long it had been in the water.

U.S. LOVING CUP FOR LIPTON IS NOW PLAN OF WILL ROGERS

Canadian Press
New York, Sept. 19.—Will Rogers, humorist and actor, in his daily contribution to The New York Times from Beverly Hills, Cal., to-day suggests contributions of $1 apiece from "everybody," to buy a loving cup for Sir Thomas Lipton, owner of the losing Shamrock V in the America's Cup races.

Will pleads his case seriously and bluntly, saying: "What do you say to this?"

"Let everybody send $1 apiece for a fund to buy a loving cup for Sir Thomas Lipton, bigger than the one he would have got if he had won, contributed to by everybody, with an inscription along this line: 'To possibly the world's worst yacht builder, but absolutely the world's most cheerful loser. You have been a benefit to mankind, Sir Thomas; you have made losing worth while.'"

"Now get busy and send Jimmy a buck."

Mayor Walker last night expressed his willingness to co-operate in any way.

WANT LIBERTY IN SELECTION OF DOCTORS

Must Be Embodied in State Insurance Plan, Says League

General endorsement of the state health insurance scheme, provided a liberal choice of service was offered, was given by the majority of bodies which waited upon the Royal Commission on state health and maternity benefits, the members' room at the Parliament Buildings to-day to make their suggestions on the matter.

Mining interests represented took similar lines to those of C. M. O'Brien, K.C., who stated the loggers' case yesterday evening. The mining interests were averse to any form of taxation which would increase the overhead costs of operation during the present state of depression in the industry.

LIBERAL CHOICE
F. B. Killo, delegate from the Canadian Anti-vivisection Society, endorsed the principle of a state scheme, but advocated the most liberal choice of service. He also brought up the point that the "conscientious objectors" feature would be acceptable to his body.

Frank Partridge, on behalf of the United Commercial Travelers, favored the state system, and offered several constructive suggestions.

Further elaboration of the Ancient Order of Foresters' views was discussed by William Manson and W. F. Fullerton.

W. H. Bunnion, representing the Shipping Federation of British Columbia and the Imperial Veterans in Canada. The latter it was noted had recently affiliated with the Canadian Legion and were in favor of the move.

BUTTER PRICE STILL RISING AT TORONTO

Toronto, Sept. 19.—Butter prices continue to rise on the local markets. Latest produce quotations show No. 1 grades selling at from 32 to 33 cents a pound, compared with 29 cents last Tuesday, prior to Premier E. B. Bennett's announcement of the increases in the tariff.

HOUSE VOTES ON TWO TARIFF AMENDMENTS

Liberal and U.F.A. Motions Rejected; Bennett's Motion Is Carried 121 to 87

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—The House of Commons to-day rejected by a majority of 34 votes the U.F.A. Labor sub-amendment to the government's tariff resolution by 170 votes. The vote stood: For the sub-amendment, twenty-three; against, 157.

The sub-amendment was supported by the Farmer, Labor and Independent groups as well as seven Liberal members. The remainder of the Liberals and all the Conservatives voted against it.

The vote on the Liberal amendment followed immediately. It was rejected by forty votes. The division resulted in seventy-eight declaring in favor of the amendment and 118 against. Supporting the amendment were all Liberals present and Messrs. Neill and Bourassa, Independents. Against were all Conservatives present. The U.F.A. Progressive and Independent groups did not vote.

MAIN MOTION
Then followed the division on the main motion, which carried by a majority of 34 votes. The division stood: For, 121; against, 87.

Conservative voted solidly in favor of the motion. Opposed were all Liberals as well as some members of the U.F.A. Progressive and Labor groups. Others did not vote.

FULL DEBATE NEEDED
During the discussion which preceded the vote, Hon. W. D. Euler, former Liberal Minister of National Revenue, declared the tariff increases proposed by the government were of such a far-reaching nature that there should be ample opportunity for careful consideration and discussion of them by Parliament. If the Prime Minister felt he must be present during this discussion, Mr. Euler said Mr. Bennett should remain in Canada as long as was necessary. He was satisfied in view of the importance of the changes that Mr. Bennett could accomplish more by remaining here than by hurrying to London. He did not think, however, that it was wise for Mr. Bennett to remain, but Parliament should not be hurried in its revision of the tariff.

U.S. Coastguard Cutter Finds Only Wreckage of Schooner South Coast Off Oregon

San Francisco, Sept. 19.—No trace of the lumber schooner South Coast, other than floating wreckage, had been reported by the United States coastguard cutter Cabotia as she continued searching waters off the south Oregon coast to-day.

Despite his belief the schooner struck a shoal and sank with her crew of eighteen, the captain of the Cabotia continued his search on the possibility the ship foundered in steamer lanes and her crew took to boats. He said he believed the schooner struck a shoal off Rogue River Tuesday night.

Dense fogs handicapped the hunt of coastguard crew.

PLANE MAY SEARCH
An airplane was ready at Crescent City, Cal., to join the searchers if visibility should sufficiently improve.

Hobbs, Wall and Company of San Francisco, owners of the South Coast, arranged for the airplane hunt to speed up the slow combing of the waters and make possible a rescue if the schooner or any of her crew should be found alive.

The historic schooner, built in 1887, disappeared while making a short run from Crescent City to Coos Bay, Ore. An empty lifeboat and floating wreckage were the only signs seen of the craft since she put to sea in a heavy fog Tuesday. She was without wireless.

Vancouver Asks B.C. Government to Aid Indian Reserve Negotiations

Vancouver, Sept. 19.—To reiterate the request of the city of Vancouver that the provincial government abandon its claim for $350,000 reversionary interest in the Kitilano Indian Reserve, Mayor W. H. Malkin will interview Premier S. F. Timmins when he returns to Victoria Sunday.

"Vancouver needs the reserve for a stadium and park site and to provide a right-of-way for the Burrard Street Bridge," Mayor Malkin declares.

Seeking to obtain title to the reserve, a former provincial government some years ago paid the Indians $350,000 for the property, but following a long dispute, it was decided that despite this payment, title rested with the Indian Department. Agreement was reached, however, that whenever the reserve was sold, $350,000 should be returned to the provincial government. Mayor Malkin will ask that this claim should not be pressed, thus enabling the city to acquire the land by dealing with Ottawa.

BEATTY SEES BUSINESS TIDE TAKING TURN

C.P.R. Head Tells North Vancouver Audience Improvement Is Coming

North Vancouver, Sept. 19.—E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was tendered an appreciation dinner by the North Vancouver Canadian Club yesterday evening at the Palace Hotel.

C.P.R. INVESTMENTS

"Realizing its serious obligation to Canadians," said Mr. Beatty, "the Canadian Pacific in the last decade has endeavored at least to keep pace with development of the country and make its contribution. During the last ten years the company has rock ballasted 2,000 miles of railway, installed 1,500 miles of block signal, added 2,500 miles of track, built the most modern pier on the Pacific Coast in Vancouver harbor, lined and completed the five-mile Connaught Tunnel, spent millions in strengthening and modernizing its bridges, and through the agency of its engineers has created the largest and most powerful locomotives in the British Empire."

"When the war was over we found our fleet badly depleted and ships purchasable were not suitable for trade of that time. We began to create a new fleet of Empresses, Duchesses and Princesses, which cost a total of $85,000,000."

HOTEL SYSTEM

"For hotel work $42,000,000 was spent. No country except the United States has as modern hotels as Canada. The company has always thought it owed Canada as much as its coffers would permit. The company is owned in Canada, Great Britain and the United States, although in the directorate Canadians always predominate. Officers are exclusively Canadian. During the ten-year period of which I speak, faith in the country and intelligent self interest has resulted in the company spending $386,000,000."

TURN OF TIDE

"We are in an unusual position today because of economic conditions. It has meant heavy losses to the company in earnings. Between September 1, 1929, and September 1, 1930, gross earnings decreased $47,000,000."

"We have met this as best we could, but we have felt the turn of the tide. Normal conditions can not be expected overnight. It is to be hoped industrial and agricultural conditions are better soon. The railways will be the first to feel better times as they are the mirrors of business."

"I am a cold and incurable optimist on Canada, and have the greatest faith in her future. If you look back over the history of Canada from Confederation to present you will see we have gone through several valleys, but have never ceased to climb." Mr. Beatty ended amid loud cheers.

DETROIT PILOT LEADS PLANES ON LONG TOUR

Calgary, Sept. 19.—The grey metal Ford monoplane piloted by Harry Russell of Detroit today stood out at the head of the list of competitors in the 1890 National Air Tour, though it was the eighth to reach Calgary on the eighth of the tour.

Today the fliers move southward to Lethbridge, in lower Alberta, preparatory to re-entering the United States. The eighteen entrants in the 4,700-mile tour crossed the international boundary line last Sunday and stopped at Winnipeg and Brandon in Manitoba, Regina, Saskatoon and North Battleford, Saskatchewan, and Edmonton and Calgary, Alberta.

Two Waco biplanes from Wichita, Kas., are in second and third positions, according to point standings issued today. Second is John Livingston, who won the tour prize last year, and next comes R. T. Davis, Walter Beech, with his Curtiss Kingbird, is fourth, followed by the noted pilot Myron Zeller and George Haldeman, who made a tri-monoplane Ford and a Bellanca, respectively.

The next four fliers and the planes they fly are Eddie Schneider (Cessna); W. J. Smith (Bellanca); Truman Wadlow (Travelair); and Les Bowman (Waco).

Standings are based on elapsed time, together with load carried, horsepower and capability in landing and taking off.

SEVERAL KILLED IN MEXICO FIGHT

Tejico, Nayarit, Mexico, Sept. 19.—A band of drunken invaders appeared near the town of Villa de Compostela during an Independence Day parade, and attempted to kidnap the prettiest beauties in the village, winners of a beauty contest, who were participating in the parade.

The authorities drove off the raiders after an exchange of shots. Reports reaching Tejico said several persons were killed and wounded.

CUSTOMS GUARD TO FACE TRIAL

New York, Sept. 19.—A customs guard charged with having blackjacked a physician during an altercation over two one-ounce bottles of whisky owned by a third person, was held in $5,000 bail yesterday for grand jury action on a charge of felonious assault.

The case came into court as the result of an allegation that the physician, Dr. George A. L. Irwin, forty-two, interfered with and assaulted Francis T. McCarthy, the guard, when McCarthy sought to take Harry Jones, a friend of Dr. Irwin, to the police office last Thursday night. McCarthy had just arrested Jones for possessing the whisky.

Magistrate Ford dismissed the charge against Dr. Irwin, who was brought into court switched in handcuffs.

FOUND NOT GUILTY

Sudbury, Sept. 19.—Mrs. Eugenie McKee of Coniston was acquitted of a charge of manslaughter at the fall assizes which closed here yesterday. The charge against Mrs. McKee arose from the death of her husband from injuries received when he was struck on the head by a stove lighter thrown by his wife. A plea of self defence was entered.

STRIKE MURDER

Barcelona, Spain, Sept. 19.—One militia man was killed and another wounded yesterday evening in an attack growing out of a strike among building trades workers here. Jow Callmany, a militia man, was asked by a worker to escort him to his place of work as protection against strikers. Shots were fired at Callmany and he fell dead.

Now--Contrasting Accessories

Are you one of the women who chooses her hat, her bag, her shoes, and her jewelry to match a particular costume? If you are, then prepare to change your ways. For the very smartest tendency in accessory planning is to choose a contrasting shade—as, for instance, a dark green hat, shoes, bag and jewelry with a brown suit, or a brown coat and dress. The effect is decidedly chic—and the possibilities of varying a costume with different sets of accessories make it practical for the woman of limited means.

HOPES FOR LIMIT BAG

Montreal Hunter Gets Everything Near Banff Except Grizzly Bear and Horn Ram

Banff, Alta., Sept. 19.—Somewhere in the Kootenay Valley of British Columbia Angus Hodgson of Montreal is securing one of the biggest bags of the large game ever taken out of the Canadian Rockies and also proving that Canada's game conservation policy by means of national parks is building up excellent hunting in the surrounding areas.

Three days ago he had a total bag of two deer, two rocky mountain goats, one moose, one elk, one black bear and for six days had been tracking a monster grizzly that he had wounded. If he succeeds in securing the grizzly then all he will need will be a big horn ram to give him his limit of every animal possible to get.

Mr. Hodgson left the Banff Springs Hotel on August 31. In charge of two of the Pat Brewster pack train guides he crossed the Simpson Pass then made his way to the Kootenay hunting grounds by way of Mitchell Creek and Cross River on September 6.

R. O. Sweeney, also of Montreal, with another guide, joined Mr. Hodgson at the latter's camp Wednesday night. Mr. Sweeney returned to the Banff Springs Hotel with the story of Mr. Hodgson's great hunt and said that the latter was playing with the job of getting the grizzly and had decided to stay in the Kootenay Valley for an extra two weeks to attempt to secure a big horn ram and return with a limit bag.

ONTARIO FARMER TO BE EXECUTED

Chatham, Ont., Sept. 19.—Francis Vadevelde, fifty-six, was sentenced to be hanged December 23 by Mr. Justice McEvoy here yesterday evening for the murder of Joel Kamoen, Dover Township farmer.

The jury deliberated three hours and twenty-five minutes before bringing in its verdict. Mr. Justice McEvoy immediately passed sentence.

Kamoen, a bachelor, and Vadevelde were living together for a few weeks prior to the former's disappearance. The body of Kamoen, with injuries on the skull, was found in a refuse heap.

COAL FOUND IN SASKATCHEWAN

Luseland, Sask., Sept. 19.—Right in his own backyard, T. Huggins believes he has a coal mine. While digging a well on his property, thirteen miles from here, Huggins struck coal at twenty-two feet and later secured samples seventeen feet below that. Indications of a seam several miles in length have led to filing of claims, as other farmers also claim to have struck coal veins.

PRICES WILL GO UP

UNDER A TORONTO DATE LINE ON
Wednesday The Times printed a dispatch recording views on the effect the new tariff will have on Canadian industry, of which the following is a part:

Dairy farmers will benefit immediately by an increase in the price of butter, it was claimed. The eight cents British preference announced by Premier B. B. Bennett practically means New Zealand butter will certainly not flood Canadian markets. Butter that is selling in chain stores today at from 20 to 28 cents each pound will, when the new tariff takes effect, probably jump to from 40 to 42 cents, it was estimated. This means the farmer will secure a higher price for his butterfat, which he has been selling almost at a loss recently, according to Victor A. Hooper, general manager of a local creamery.

In an interview with The Times a local grocer expressed himself on the same subject in the following terms:

Just as butter had dropped to its lowest level in fifteen years it is due for a sudden rise. People must have butter. If they had to rely on the butter produced in Canada they would starve. We have to import from New Zealand. That is the only butter our stores in British Columbia handle outside of Canadian butter. It is obvious that Mr. Bennett has increased the price of butter eight cents a pound.

This is what a Victoria boot and shoe dealer had to say about the increase in the duty on imported footwear:

If the duty goes up on boots and shoes those people who buy imported boots and shoes will have to pay more for them, and that is all there is to it. It is a case of the customer paying more for what he wants or else changing his wants. Our business is to give them what they want, and a lot of them want imported shoes. It looks as if we shall have to charge them more. British-made shoes, in this city particularly, are in big demand. It looks as if the customer will have to pay more for them.

As the grocer said, "people must have butter," so the boot and shoe dealer could have said, "people must have boots and shoes." In spite of Mr. Bennett's protection for the consumer, however, butter and shoes will now cost more. Butter prices already have been increased here and in various parts of the country.

THE MINER'S LOT

BRITISH COLUMBIA RECENTLY HAD
a grim reminder of the hazardous nature of the coal miner's calling when the lives of forty-five men were snuffed out at the Blakely mine. Yesterday brought news from Nova Scotia of another disaster at the Victoria mine in Cumberland county, with a toll of seven dead and others badly burned by an explosion. Scarcely a month passes without similarly tragic happenings in one part of the world or another.

We who work above the ground and enjoy the daylight hours are apt to forget those who work for their daily bread in the bowels of the earth, never knowing from one minute to another when Nature is going to display one of her ugly moods. When these men ask for better working conditions and more wages, there is a tendency to grow impatient and say the miners are never satisfied. But the Blakely and Nova Scotia tragedies bring to us a realization of the perils to which the coal miner is exposed from the time he enters the shaft until he comes up into daylight again.

NOT A PANACEA

IN A RECENT ISSUE OF THE NATION,
Sir Herbert Samuel, a Liberal who refuses to be stampeded into any admission that the highly-protected country is better off in this time of world-wide economic depression than free trade Britain, confesses that "one is always grateful in any controversy for the emergence of new fact." He then goes on to point out that the government's economic advisory council recently sent a delegation to study the conditions of the iron and steel industry in continental European countries. Of this body's discoveries he has the following to say:

It found the industry prospering in some of them—but not in Germany. There, they say, "despite its rehabilitation after the war, and the extent to which plants have been improved in their equipment, the industry is suffering from unemployment." At the time of the delegation's visit, in the metal industries, including engineering, 14 per cent of the workers were wholly employed and another 16 per cent were on short time.

Their conclusion is that "in principle, in policy and in the difficulties confronting the post-war situation of the iron and steel industry, there is a marked similarity between Germany and Great Britain." Yet Germany is fully protected. All these opportunities, under the shelter of a tariff, for rationalization, working full time, reducing costs, expanding exports, which are advocated as a panacea, have for long been available there. Nevertheless a Government committee of inquiry finds the situation in the iron and steel industry to be much the same at this moment in Germany as it is in free trade Britain.

We in Canada know, of course, that the unemployed problem in the neighboring republic is a great deal more acute than it is in this Dominion. But, in certain political circles, high protection has become a fetish, and all the economic ills from which our country is supposed to be suffering—so we are told—will be cured by an increase in the tariff.

FACING FACTS

SOME TIME AGO VISCOUNT GREY OF
Fallodon delivered a speech in which he declared that it was almost useless to talk about free trade within the empire because the Dominions were not ready for it. Here is a recent pronouncement from the eminent British statesman on the same subject:

"We live by our exports to foreign countries. If we could live by making everything for ourselves and selling everything to ourselves—by making all the food we need in this country—we should have to reduce our population to from ten to fifteen millions. But now it is fifty millions, and that extra population can only live by selling goods to foreign countries."

"We must be paid in exchange by goods from foreign countries, and when protectionists tell us that they are going to help trade by making it more difficult for foreign countries to send us goods, what they really mean is that they are going to make it more difficult for us to sell to foreign countries, and therefore more difficult for us to buy from them."

"The amount of trade we might do with the Empire could not possibly compensate for the loss of trade between ourselves and the rest of the world. In any case, our Dominions tell us they cannot give us free trade in any circumstances, and that they must retain duties on British-manufactured goods. The game cannot be played if one of the parties refuses to play, and that is the position so far as we know it with regard to Empire free trade at the moment."

The Bennett government's new tariff measure bears out the truth of Lord Grey's interpretation of conditions. It is also backed up by recent fiscal changes the Antipodean governments have made. And how the British public is reacting to the Beaverbrook plan was reflected by the action of the electorate in the by-election at Bromley. The United Empire Party candidate, a Conservative, ran third, the Baldwin candidate heading the poll, with the Liberal a close second.

Toronto should be proud of its veteran golfer, George S. Lyon, who recently captured the Canadian seniors' stroke competition with a gross score of seventy-five for a Toronto course with a par of seventy-three. Mr. Lyon is only seventy-two years young—and he has probably more golf triumphs to his credit than any other Canadian player. May he still keep going strong.

Premier Bennett declared his tariff protection policy would not increase prices to the consumer, because the government would remove the protection if it did. Within twenty-four hours of the increase in the customs duty on butter the price of that commodity went up, and when a member from Winnipeg called Mr. Bennett's attention to this fact he said he would "discuss" it later. But we will wager he will not remove the protection. No doubt he also will "discuss" the inevitable increases of the 120 other protected commodities to the consumer, but he will not remove the protection. Prices raised by his government can not be reduced by discussion no matter how many words to the minute Mr. Bennett may pour out in the process. This is no time to hit the pocket of the ordinary man or woman.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

MR. BENNETT'S PROMISES
The Manitoba Free Press

Mr. Bennett is pledged to build bridges, roads, railways and canals. At St. John he said: "We offer you the St. Lawrence Waterway; the Chicago Canal is a possibility, yes, a probability." At Brandon he "endorsed the Making Cut-off." At Charlottetown he cannot understand how the farmers of Prince Edward Island are going to compete in the world market if they have to have two railway gauges in one province. He will remedy that. On these and his other promises and solemn pledges Mr. Bennett was elected, and these are the pledges he now begins to make good. It is an undertaking worthy of the highest gifts of statesmanship, and in this spirit Mr. Bennett has addressed himself to its difficulties. Here, again, he has made his position clear and conspicuous. "After I am Prime Minister on July 28, I will see that my promises are carried out or the government will go out of power trying to do so." His promises are set out herewith, and Mr. Bennett is now Prime Minister. The country awaits the result.

NO AMERICANISM WANTED

The Boston Transcript

For ourselves, we prefer Great Britain as she was, with not a trace of America about her from Land's End to John o' Groat's. We look forward with no enthusiasm to visiting a "copycat" England. We like bishops in garters, we like barristers in wigs and gowns, we like "the cry of the curates," thought it is a low and plaintive cry, not easily audible; we like British barmen, and we hurry by with averted faces if we suddenly come upon an American purveyor of soft drinks or an American food-shop in the Strand or Fleet Street.

A THOUGHT

Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.
—Romans xii 21.
An evil life is one of death.—Ovid.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

The Victoria Daily Times, September 19, 1905

This morning a representative of The Times interviewed Sir Thomas Shaughnessy at the Strand Hotel, in regard principally to the local intentions of the C.P.R. In reply to the question as to whether the company intended to carry out the extensions of the E. & N. Railway to the northern end of the Island immediately, Sir Thomas said that this was a matter for future consideration. In an interview at Vancouver yesterday Sir Thomas is reported as saying that Victoria and Vancouver are destined to become great flour and grain exporting centres, and that but for "British Columbia's outrageous labor legislation, they would have been so ten years ago."

About eight and one-half more miles of permanent sidewalk will be laid in this city before the expiration of the present year. City Engineer Troop stated last night that seven miles of new sidewalks have already been completed during the present season, and that the work planned appropriated the amount mentioned.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and vicinity—Southerly and easterly winds, mostly cloudy and warmer, with showers to-night or Wednesday.

The outbound Victoria and Sidney train last evening was detained about forty minutes through the track near Oromorot Street spreading and allowing one of the engine trucks to fall to the ground.

At the Victoria Driving Park yesterday afternoon the first automobile meet ever held on a local track took place, a large crowd attending. There was not an event on the programme unexciting, and the majority were so close as to cause the spectators to involuntarily leave their seats and cheer as the panting car swept past the grandstand.

MR. MASSEY AND MR. MAGRATH

The Lethbridge Herald

WHEN supporting the view that Mr. Massey should not be retained as high commissioner to Great Britain, it is argued that the Ottawa government should have at London a man who is in accord with its views on public questions. In a nutshell those of this opinion believe in introducing the spoils system into the Canadian diplomatic service by copying the United States method, and setting to one side the practice that has been in vogue in the British diplomatic service for long years.

We took occasion to point out only recently that Mr. Mackenzie King, while prime minister, did not disturb Mr. C. A. Magrath, an appointee of the Borden government to the position of chairman of the international joint commission. As this commission deals with matters affecting the relations between the United States and Canada, Mr. King might have taken the view, as Mr. Bennett is being urged to do in connection with the London position, that he should have a political friend at the head of the Canadian section and supplanted Mr. Magrath by a Liberal. The Conservatives provided the precedent after the 1911 election, for the Borden ministry removed the entire commission, which had been created and appointed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and replaced them with Mr. Magrath and two other Conservatives.

Mr. King looked upon Mr. Magrath as very many Conservatives view Mr. Massey, as a public servant who didn't play politics with his job, but sought to render always the best possible service to the country. He didn't remove him but encouraged him to remain, and for that reason Mr. Magrath is still chairman of the Canadian section, and Sir William Hearst, a former Conservative premier of Ontario, is one of his colleagues. Mr. King didn't attempt to remove Mr. Hearst, any more than he did Mr. Magrath. It is proper that it should be said of Mr. King that he aimed to make Canada's diplomatic service as efficient as possible, and when he found Mr. Magrath filling it not a wholly diplomatic post at least a quasi-diplomatic one, with ability and impartiality, he did not remove him for the sake of giving a Liberal an appointment. We find many Conservative newspapers taking the ground that Mr. Massey should be retained in the diplomatic service, and that that service should be operated as is that of Great Britain, with permanency of the personnel in mind, rather than changing the diplomats every time a government of a new color comes into power.

It is said by those who want friends of the government to be given these diplomatic offices that Mr. Massey was an active Liberal before his appointment. Mr. Magrath was an active Conservative before his appointment, but like Mr. Massey his country's interests and not his party was always his first consideration, and Mr. King retained him in office on that account. It is an exactly similar case to that of Mr. Massey, and the country is waiting to learn whether Mr. Bennett looks at these positions from the same statesmanlike attitude as his predecessor in the prime minister's office.

Nervous Dyspepsia Bad Liver, Headache of Years Vanish

Gives Credit for Health to
"FRUIT-A-TIVES"

"For years I was troubled with bad headaches, nervous dyspepsia and liver troubles. Finally tried 'Fruit-a-tives' and am once more entirely well." — R. A. Boyce, Trenton, Ont.

U.S. EXPERTS STUDYING NEW TARIFF MOVES

Attempt to Estimate Trade With Canada Under Bennett's Policy

Washington, Sept. 19.—Economic experts in Washington are even more than ordinarily cautious in expressing opinions concerning the increases in the Canadian tariff. While studying reports from Ottawa, they are not yet in a position to figure mathematically what amount of exports from the United States will be affected nor what the degree of the effect will be, as usually they are in disagreement on some points.

For example, an official of some standing to-day expressed astonishment at a published report that the impact on gasoline would cut off United States exports to Canada.

The same official said the effect of the increased rates might be expected to be more serious in view of the present economic depression. When people had plenty of money, he said, they bought regardless of tariffs.

The generality of opinion among both Republicans and Democrats, however, is well known to be that if the United States has the right to do what it wishes about its own tariff—a point emphasized in the closing hours of debate on the Smoot-Hawley measure—then Canada certainly has the same right.

Those who opposed the Republican Smoot-Hawley bill have made political capital out of what they consider to be retaliatory action on the part of other countries and will no doubt use the Canadian upward tariff revision as ammunition in the fall elections.

TARIFF WAR

New York, Sept. 19.—The New York World, under the heading, "Canada's Answer to Our Tariff," comments editorially in part as follows:

"The Canadian Government, for obvious reasons, does not admit its emergency tariff schedules are intended as an answer to our new Hawley-Smoot duties. Officially, Canada's action is designed to stimulate home industry and absorb the unemployed. Nevertheless, many of the new rates are identical with those which were recently embodied in the American Tariff Act."

"The spectacle of two neighboring nations, each the other's best customer, engaging in a tariff war is not at all alluring, and the end, apparently, has not yet been reached, for the new Canadian tariff is only an interim arrangement."

"A curtailment of the trade between the two countries can only lead to more idle farms and mines and factories and—what is still worse—more idle men."

REEVE CROUCH PROMISES WORK TO HUNGRY MEN

Big Meeting in Ward Two,
Saanich, Supports Sidewalks Construction

Unemployment Relief Secondary to Provision of Needed
Improvement, Reeve States

"If any Saanich man who is really in need of food for himself and his kiddies will come and see me I will get him work 'some-where,' Reeve William Crouch yesterday evening assured a large audience at St. Mark's Hall in Ward Two, at the conclusion of a meeting which overwhelmingly supported the Reeve's plan to replace wooden sidewalks with permanent construction at a cost of $100,000.

Over one hundred persons attended, and the audience included a large number of unemployed and their wives, together with residents other than property owners. A large number who on Wednesday voted on the project at Tillicum School did not participate in the voting, at the request of the Reeve. The vote in support of the proposal totaled fifty-one, and twenty-one ballots were cast against the plan.

Reeve Crouch reviewed the necessity of replacement of admittedly rotten wooden walks and the prospects of an unemployment situation this winter. His remarks following closely the address given at Tillicum School on Wednesday evening. He announced that 130 letters approving the scheme had been received from ratepayers of Wards Two and Seven who would have to pay for the walks, while only thirteen protests had been recorded in writing.

By reconstructing the wooden walks at a cost of $100,000 the district would receive practical benefit, while aiding in providing employment. The Reeve forecast that if such a measure were not authorized the Saanich Council would have to borrow upwards of $25,000 against next year's taxes to meet the situation and employ men on the roads and ditch digging. The amount would be added to the general tax rate next year.

Walks on both sides of the road would cost more than double the expense of single walks, which would follow the last costly location. If dual walks were laid the cost would be $4.00 per lot for ten years instead of $1.55 per lot as estimated. The cost to the ratepayers of a loan of $100,000 would be about $127,000 the Reeve estimated, if sinking funds were well invested. T. M. Bird objected to the expense added by issuance of debentures. "Why cannot the municipality do the work over a term of years? Then there will be work for unemployed in years to come," he advised. Reeve Crouch pointed out that the municipality had not the money to invest in walks and doubted whether a similar situation would exist next year.

EMPLOYMENT SECONDARY

A member of the audience said the programme could not be carried out at the suggested cost if done by day labor, and another asked whether the work was for the Saanich foremen and present staff or for the unemployed. Reeve Crouch favored distribution of work by changing the gangs each week. The Reeve denied that the work was primarily an unemployment relief plan and preferred to regard it as a needed improvement. He refused to pledge himself to a policy of equal opportunity for unemployed men with the regular staff, pointing out that married unemployed men should be given preference. Further, the work would not be regarded as relief work, the pay would be at the regular wage of $4.00 daily, and men given employment must have resided in Saanich for at least six months.

A ratepayer asked for an estimate of the proportion of the cost which would be wages. Reeve Crouch had no information, but Councillor Eden of Ward Seven said the municipal engineer had estimated that, if Mount Douglas gravel were available, sixty-five per cent of the cost would be spent for wages.

A. Ashby recommended that special consideration be given owners of property facing Saanich Road and other main streets, used by nearly all residents. It was pointed out that certain landowners would be bankrupt because of long acreage frontages. Reeve Crouch remarked that the majority must rule, but promised sympathetic consideration of such cases.

ESTIMATE DISPUTED
Councillor F. J. Crowhurst contested Reeve Crouch's estimate that if the law were not approved, Saanich must borrow $25,000 or more for relief purposes. He believed the presentation of the case by Reeve Crouch otherwise accurate as to the proposed betterment.

START IN NOVEMBER
After the vote had been taken the Reeve was asked how long it would be before work would commence. He estimated that nothing could be done until early in November, even though the utmost speed was exercised in passing the by-law, because of restrictions imposed by the Municipal Act. A number of ladies protested that hungry men could not wait so long, and the Reeve was accorded prolonged applause when he pledged work for all who personally called upon him.

DESCRIBES BIG ROTARY PARLEY

International Movement Celebrated Twenty-fifth Birthday at Chicago

Seventeen thousand Rotarians, representing sixty-three different countries gathered in Chicago to celebrate the silver anniversary of Rotary. Impassioned tribute was paid to Paul Harris, founder of the movement, by this huge gathering, seated in a magnificent stadium with a stage built in the form of a great birthday cake, having twenty-five candles.

Alfred Brewer, of the Victoria Rotary Club, yesterday described to local Rotarians the proceedings of the convention, which was held in the last week of June.

In the basement of the Stevens Hotel, the largest in the world, was the "House of Friendship," the convention headquarters. Mr. Brewer said. It was arranged to represent a forest with pools of goldfish and many canaries and singing birds on the boughs.

One of the features of the parley was a magnificent pageant, held in the stadium. It was probably the most spectacular sight he had ever seen, Mr. Brewer said.

Mr. Brewer traveled east by automobile. Speaking of his experience en route, he said:

"Anyone who makes a trip like that during the height of the tourist season must appreciate the advantages of a Transcanada highway. Tourists leave thousands of dollars behind them as they travel and I am convinced that a highway across Canada would pay for itself in a few years."

Preparation for the Pageant of All Nations, which is to be presented here by the club, were discussed. Members will aid in constructing stands and properties at the Armories.

After a drawing by R. W. Mayhew, Mrs. John Bartholomew, 1032 Oliphant Avenue, was announced as the winner of the "hope chest" raffled at the Willows Fair by the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I.O.D.E.

A motion of congratulation to Harold M. Digson on his appointment as district governor of Kiwanis was passed.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Butter to be delivered in November collapsed yesterday to the lowest price level of the season. The wholesale price at one stage of trading on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange was as low as 25¢, cents a pound; one cent a pound lower than the last sale Wednesday. Unfavorable news concerning the heavy stocks of butter on hand were responsible for the decline.

Art Webster, speedy inside three-quarter, who last year gained a great following among local enthusiasts, will fill in the vacancy made by the withdrawal of Bill Pollard from the back field. Pollard received a leg injury in the first game, which will keep him out of the match. Benny MacMillan is expected to move up into the half-back position while Webster will take his place on the three-quarter line.

LEADERS IN O.C. SOCCER TO BE TESTED

Arsenal, Not Yet Beaten in First Division, to Meet Leicester City Clubs Settle Down Into Stride; Rangers and Celtic Meet in Scottish League

London, Sept. 19.—Soccer clubs in the English League have now settled down into their stride for the long season. Already two teams have emerged from the glut of early season matches in impressive fashion, Arsenal in the First Division and Everton in the Second. Both have yet to taste defeat, though both have been forced to draw on one occasion. Behind Arsenal are Aston Villa, one point down, while the runners-up in the Second Division are West Bromwich Albion and Wolverhampton Wanderers.

On Saturday, Arsenal, even though they play at Highbury, will get a good test as they meet Leicester City, who are fifth just now in the championship table. Sheffield Wednesday, the champions, have not been going too well, but should win easily on Saturday as they meet Manchester United, who have lost every one of their five starts. Everton will be at home to Port Vale, who will be a case of a team demoted from the First Division, Everton, meeting a club promoted from the minors.

Scotland will see one of the great matches between Rangers and Celtic. Rangers are going very strongly again this season and have not lost a match. Celtic are not the team they once were, but as they are playing on their own ground at Parkhead they will have that much advantage.

TWO JOCKS ON "FRENCH" LEAVE

Paul Neal and Jimmy Marcum Desert Mounts at Lincoln Field For Trip Home

Chicago, Sept. 19.—The mystery of the disappearance of jockeys Paul Neal and Jimmy Marcum was solved yesterday when the youngsters were found at the home of the former at Benton, Ill. Each had riding engagements for Wednesday at Lincoln Fields. Neal having three mounts and Marcum four, but they failed to appear for checking in, and it was feared they might have been kidnapped.

Trainer J. B. Partridge of the Valley Lake stable, at whose home Marcum lives, attributed the trip to Benton in Neal's new automobile as a "whim trip" and homesickness on Neal's part. For failing to fulfill their engagements the riders are liable to $1000 fines and suspensions of thirty days. Neal is eighteen years old and Marcum, one of the leading riders on Chicago tracks this season, is seventeen.

Metal Boat Faster Than Wooden One Experts Declare

Enterprise, Winner of America's Cup, Is Bronze Plated, While Shamrock V Is Mahogany Planked; Shamrock, With Lighter Rigging, Probably Would Have Given Better Account of Herself; Enterprise Able to Sail Closer to Wind; Captains Are Analyzed; Lipton Shows Fine Sportsmanship.

Newport, R.I., Sept. 19.—Following the final race for the America's Cup yesterday in which the defender Enterprise clinched the series the men who build boats are unanimous in the contention that a metal boat, all other things being equal, is faster than a wooden one. Enterprise is bronze plated. Shamrock V is mahogany planked.

Enterprise is equipped with a variety of mechanical devices for hoisting sails and trimming sheets and standing rigging. Much power is required to work those winches, but they accomplish their tasks much faster than the old style gear of Shamrock.

Shamrock's mast is of wood, but it is a ton heavier than Enterprise's hollow metal spar, and weight aloft is a most serious handicap to a sailing craft.

Shamrock, with its light rigging as Enterprise, probably would have given the United States boat very close competition.

There was some discussion of amateur skippers compared with professionals. Harold S. Vanderbilt, millionaire and one of the most capable yachtsmen in the United States, sailed Enterprise to victory. He took orders from nobody.

Ned Heard, whose life has been spent largely on the sea, skippered the defeated challenger. Captain Heard is a professional sailorman, working for a salary and answering to no one but himself. He has sailed for many years and is liked to see Captain Heard sail a race absolutely his own.

As to the seamanship involved in the series just closed, it is difficult to make comparisons. There were four races and the rival skippers each started in the windward berth of two races. Enterprise probably was stepping along a bit faster at most of the starts. Enterprise showed an ability to sail closer to the wind than Shamrock, but that was not the fault of the crew of the green aloft.

LIPTON THROUGH

As strenuous signaling another United States victory, the eighty-year-old Lipton has abandoned his fruitless quest.

"It's the end of the race. It's the finish, yes, the finish, I will not challenge again. It's no use. We cannot win."

The victorious United States yacht Enterprise clinched the series by covering the thirty-mile course in the fourth race yesterday in three hours, ten minutes, thirteen seconds, the fastest time ever made in the sixty years since Britain first challenged for the cup in United States waters. She beat Sir Thomas's Shamrock by five minutes and seventeen seconds.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

SIR THOMAS LIPTON has tried again and failed. The America's Cup, emblematic of the world's yachting supremacy, and so prized by the famous Irish sportsman, was again in the United States until it is again challenged for. Lipton has announced he will never attempt to win the trophy again stating that it is now up to somebody to organize a syndicate, make the challenge and build a craft.

It is a pity that Lipton could not have won the cup on this, his final attempt. Sir Tom who has set his heart on taking the trophy back to the Old Country for over thirty years was confident he would be successful with the Shamrock V. But as in all his other efforts he failed and this time his entry took a bad beating from the U.S. defender, the Enterprise. Lipton's entry failed to win a race and in the third of the series was disabled and forced to lay to.

The Enterprise was easily the better boat, outlasting the Shamrock at all stages. On occasion in any of the four races did the Shamrock ever look like a winner. It must have been a serious blow to Lipton who had figured he had a splendid chance of winning.

Of Lipton's five challengers only one, the Shamrock IV, has been able to win a race from any of the defending yachts. In 1899 Lipton issued his first challenge with the Shamrock I which was beaten in three straight races by Columbia. In 1903 the Shamrock III went down to defeat in three straight races before the Hellenic. In 1920 Lipton came close to winning the trophy when the Shamrock IV won the first two races and needed only one more victory to lift the cup, but the Resolute came back to take the next three races to retain the trophy. Lipton has now spent about $5,500,000 in his efforts to win the cup.

The Enterprise, built by a syndicate of New York millionaires, was far better and more extensively equipped than the Shamrock. The U.S. vessel was fitted with gadgets and instruments of every description in order to give her crew every available chance to win.

The sports pages these days are full of home run talk. Joe Hauser, big league castoff now playing with Baltimore Orioles in the International League, has surpassed Babe Ruth's mark of sixty homers for the season. Down south, Jim Poffe, who also had his fling in the big leagues, has been beating them right and left. Hack Wilson comes forward in the National League with a grand effort to pass Babe's record.

In both major leagues new home run totals have been reached. The National League still leads in the matter of four-base blows. Fans have started to ask a thousand questions. Every time two fans get together, there is an argument. Maybe the National League pitchers are not up to the class of those in the American League. Maybe the slugging in the National is more vicious than the batmen in the other league. The ball may be a trifle livelier in the National League than that used by the American.

The shibes of Philadelphia, who mail both Shamrocks as National League balls in what they say is exactly the same method, even on the same machines, deny the ball is any livelier. But whether or not the ball has been coaxed up, the fact is that baseball play has changed radically in the last ten years.

Seldom these days do you see infielders playing close in in the effort to cut off a run at the plate. One or two runs at the plate do not mean much any more. Besides, there is the liability of being killed by a batted ball.

The answer is hard to find, but the fact is that home runs have increased to a point where they are the common topic of discussion among the fans. Larry Doyle, who led the National League in batting fifteen years ago with a mark of .330, lays the increased hitting to the frequency with which brand new bats are put into the game by the umpires. Every time a foul is struck, a new ball goes into the game. Soiled or discolored balls are inspected frequently during the course of a game and thrown out. The batter usually has a nice white shiny target to swing at.

Another cause for the increase of hitting that many of the old-timers give is the absence now-a-days of freak deliveries and a ban on the spitball. The spitball has been banned. Tampering with the ball is forbidden. Roughening of the sides to give the ball more wind resistance and cause it to take a peculiar curve also has been ruled out.

Philadelphia Catches Pennant; Cards Win Again

Connie Mack and A's Will Prepare For World Series

Veteran Manager Will Lead His Club Into Seventh Championship Series Against National League Titleholders; Heavy-scoring Victory Over Chicago White Sox Yesterday Decided American League Race; St. Louis Sinks Brooklyn for Third Straight Loss and Increases Lead in National Race.

Once more Connie Mack, the tall tactician of Philadelphia, has led the Athletics to the point where they have nothing to do but look forward to a new world series in which to conquer—or to be conquered, and from current indications in the race for the National League flag, it appears that the St. Louis Cardinals will be their rivals in the struggle for the world's championship.

TIGERS GIVEN FINE SEND-OFF

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 19.—One of the largest crowds ever assembled locally to cheer a departing athletic squad gathered at the main depot here yesterday evening as Hamilton Tigers, Dominion football champions, enroute for Winnipeg, there they play the first game of their western Canada football invasion.

Cad in the yellow and black colors of the club, twenty-one players and twelve officials, boarded the train. Pep Leadley, greatest drop-kicking half-back in the game to-day was among the party. He decided to make the trip and believes his injured tendon will heal sufficiently for him to play in some of the games. The only regular not able to go was Gear, Efford, star middle wing, who is detained by business reasons.

The balance of the team were in fine fettle.

Klein hit two homers and two lessor blows in five trips to the plate and raised his average three points to .387. Babe Herman held his mark at .383 with one hit in three attempts, and Lou Gehrig retained his .383 with one out of two.

The leader, Bill Terry, made one hit in four attempts, but a semi-official revision of the figures deprived him of one blow previously credited to him and dropped his average to .400. Babe Ruth hit one out of five for a one-point loss.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Philadelphia Athletics clinched their second consecutive American League championship yesterday by defeating the White Sox 14-10, in a wild battle. Washington's 3-2 defeat by Cleveland let the A's mathematically "in."

The pennant was Connie Mack's seventh in his long American League career, and gave the Athletics the all-time leadership in championships won. New York and Boston each have won the title six times.

The battle was a long, weird affair. The Sox took a five-run lead off George Earnshaw in the first inning, but the A's came back to tie it up with a five-run assault of their own in the third. At the end of the sixth, Chicago again was leading 10-9, but Philadelphia erupted with five more in the seventh.

Earnshaw, Mahaffey and Rube Walberg were routed by the Sox, and Bob Grove was called in to finish, what he did in great style. Jim Moore, Pat Caraway, Dutch Henry, Al Thomas and Wedde all tried to halt the Athletics.

Glick held the Englishman on fairly even terms for the first half of the bout, but in the last five rounds Berg cut loose with a bewildering assortment of punches for which Glick could find no adequate defence. There were no knockdowns.

Miss Madeleine E. Sluggett
Bride of Philip D. Kelly of Vancouver

Ceremony Held Wednesday
Night in Pioneer Memorial Church

A wedding of much interest to Saanich residents took place on Wednesday evening at the Sluggett Memorial Church when the Rev. J. B. Rowell united in marriage Madeleine Elizabeth, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sluggett of Brentwood, and grand-daughter of the late Mr. John Sluggett, a pioneer of the district to whose memory the present church was erected, and Philip D. Kelly, only son of Mr. E. J. Kelly of Vancouver.

The church was prettily decorated with autumn blooms by Miss Sluggett. The guests were marked off with white ribbons and trailing vine. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a simple gown of white linen, fashioned on long lines, with plain bodice and a full skirt. The groom wore a tuxedo and carried a boutonniere of pink and white carnations and asters.

The groom was attended by Mr. Claude Sluggett, and the ushers were Messrs. Clarence and William Sluggett. Miss Alma Heyer presided at the organ. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Thomson. Mrs. Sluggett, mother of the bride, wearing a dress of reseau green, with beige lace and beige felt hat, was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Kelly, the groom's mother, who wore a frock of bottle green crepe satin, with hat to match. A very delightful hour was spent, the children entertaining their guests with a most original programme of music, dancing, dramatization and recitations, each number being rendered with an enthusiasm which showed the splendid spirit which Mrs. Muggitt is developing in the school.

Artistic programmes, done in water-colors by the children, were presented to the ladies as souvenirs of their visit. Mrs. Drake also received a pretty bouquet of snap-dragon from one of the children's gardens. Later in the afternoon Mrs. Drake, Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Walker entertained the visitors at afternoon tea at her home.

A very delightful supper tea, under the auspices of the Florence Nightingale Chapter I.O.D.E. was held at the residence of Mrs. A. Gonnason, 668 Dallas Road, on Tuesday afternoon. Beautiful autumn flowers decorated the reception room and dining-room. The tea tables were centred with pink and pale mauve asters. Mrs. Gonnason, assisted by Mrs. K. Symons, regent of the chapter, and Mrs. H. A. Porter, received the numerous guests on their arrival. Mrs. W. Lenesty, Mrs. F. J. Hall and Mrs. F. Bayle poured tea and passed out the coffee. The guests were: Mrs. H. J. Goss, Miss D. Goske, Mrs. J. Melia, Mrs. J. E. Jones, Mrs. C. McAdam, Mrs. W. A. Turner and Miss Mary MacKerchie. An interesting programme of songs, recitations and dances was given. All sword dance and "The Flower of the Forest" were given by Mrs. Lenesty. Miss Hazel Wright and Miss Lorna Colon delighted the guests with their recitations.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. J. D. Taylor, wore a French frock of silk lace fashioned with a sleeveless bolero bodice and a full skirt which reached to the floor all around. A strand of orange blossoms adorned one shoulder. She wore a picture hat of white moiré hair turned off her face, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor was her sister, Mrs. J. D. Taylor, in a gown of powder blue cut velvet, and a black felt hat trimmed with touches of white. She carried a spray of white and pink flowers. The best man was Mr. William Heaney, brother of the bride.

A small reception attended only by relatives was held in the Prince Albert suite at the Empress Hotel, where supper was served. The table was artistically arranged with garlands of white and pink flowers and tiny white flowers, and was centred with the bride's cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Selwood left at mid-night for Vancouver, and will spend their honeymoon at Grouse Mountain and in San Francisco, and will later make their home at Anyox. The bride travelled in a gown of black chiffon velvet with a yoke of beige lace over flesh-colored silk, and a small hat of black cut velvet.

Meeting at Nanaimo Yesterday Tabled Coal Resolution For Time Being

Protest Use of American Dictionaries in Public Libraries

Nanaimo, Sept. 19.—In a five-hour session yesterday with representation from five councils in the province, the Provincial Council of Women in convention elected Mrs. D. J. MacLachlan of Vancouver delegate to the coming national conference in Niagara Falls.

Two resolutions on the coal question were discussed at length. One urging the government to call a conference on the coal situation in the province, considered complied with by the government. The second resolution urging the provincial council through its affiliated societies to start propaganda to boost British Columbia coal was tabled for the next provincial meeting which will be held in Victoria to decide on all local councils to get more data.

Other matters followed up were the use of British dictionaries in public libraries where American publications in many cases held sway. A resolution on provincial supervision of milk was tabled pending the commission's report, urging that women sheriffs and bailiffs shall be engaged in connection with petty fines and grand juries carried.

Resolutions from the Canadian Legion Empire League asking the council to petition Parliament to make November 11 "Remembrance Day" and to decide on an official version of "O Canada" was handed to the educational committee for study.

History and Home Economics Awards Made in City Schools

Prizes given annually by the Women's Canadian Club for the encouragement of the study of home economics and of Canadian history in the public schools were presented to-day by members of the executive during the various commencement exercises.

At the Margaret Jenkins School, Mrs. C. C. Spottford and Mrs. R. R. The prize took the form of a subscription to the Canadian Geographic Magazine.

Mrs. P. B. Scurrah, the president, and Mrs. E. E. Parr attended the commencement exercises at the Girls' Central School to present to Grade 8 the silver tea service, which will be held for one year, also the books valued at $10 won by the class for heading the home economics examinations conducted in Grades 7 and 8 in the public schools of the city.

The second prize, also of books to the value of $10, went to Grade 7 at the North Ward School, where Mrs. Alfred Carmichael made the presentation.

So Big!

—and getting bigger every day. That's the experience of thousands of babies whose happy mothers feed baby Nestlé's Evaporated Milk.

And here's the Reason! Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is just the best of fresh cow's milk with part of the water removed—then sealed and sterilized in air-tight containers. Add water again and you have absolutely pure, safe milk—but more readily digestible than ordinary milk because the large fat globules of the milk have been broken up into small ones of the same size as in Mother's milk. Also, the curds which form in the stomach when Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is used are soft and flaky and therefore easily digestible.

Use Nestlé's Evaporated Milk for Your Baby. Use it in coffee—in cocoa—in tea. Use it in all cooking and as a beverage by diluting with one to two parts water.

DEATH OF GIRL AVIATRIX BARES WEDDING SECRET

Late Ruth Alexandra Had Premonition of Death; Farewell to Husband

San Diego, Calif., Sept. 19.—Ruth Alexandra, pretty manicurist, who left a beauty salon to become one of the greatest women aviators, had a premonition of the death she met bravely when her plane crashed at Point Loma yesterday morning.

Notes found in her hotel room revealed her premonition and disclosed her secret marriage to Robert A. Elliott, navy reserve pilot, who helped teach her to fly.

WEDDING RING
Beside the wedding certificate, which showed they had been married June 21 at Yuma, Ariz., was a note weighted down by her wedding ring and addressed to "My husband, Bob."

"Life is strange, honey," it read. "I have preceded you, do not grieve for me. Be content as I am content. Finish your work and make me proud of you so I ever will be at your side. Always I will love you and wait for you. And, sweetheart, keep my wedding ring always on you."

Elliott is said to be in Brooklyn, New York.

In another note Miss Alexander gave directions for her funeral.

FUNERAL WISHES
"I want to be dressed in comfortable, pretty night clothing," she wrote. "I want to be placed on my side in a comfortable sleeping position—my body will have to lie there a long time and I want it to be comfortable while I am going on."

"I want to be placed where there are trees and sunshine and grass. I wish no long funeral sermon. In my scrapbook is a poem marked with ink. A song shall be sung, this poem read, and that is all."

Ruth Alexander started her air training last September, got her license in November, and a commercial license last March. Twenty-one types of ships—open, cabin, single and multi-motored—had been flown by her. In the eleven months of her flying career she climbed to three women's

STEPMOTHER'S TASK NOT AN EASY ONE

One of life's major tragedies is a stepmother's anxiety to do her very best for the child in her care, and the sometimes deplorable results which come about because of her diligence and conscientiousness plus her real lack of love for the child. The latter is something over which no one has much control. To love the father does not necessarily mean that one will love his child; and a stepmother takes her first big step when she puts discipline, even efforts at training, into the background until she has managed to win the child's affection. After that, discipline takes its rightful place in the household, not as an aim in itself but as a natural part of living.

CONSTRUCTIVE TRAINING
These are all temporary problems of the pre-school child, which evaporate easily if the mother makes no drastic efforts to punish the child, but instead bends her efforts toward constructive training that is opposed to this. Thus, teddy-bear training ends when the child has good dry habits in daytime. The runaway child can be helped by freedom to walk out daily, going where she chooses, with the mother right behind her. Obedience is to be expected when the commands are not so numerous, petty and tyrannical that no child can carry them out and live happily. The touching and curious period is merely indicative of the child's interest in everything about him and is managed by teaching him to handle "Be things he lives with or substituting similar interests, rather than resorting to punishment."

ANTICIPATING PROBLEMS
"Within a few months I am going to marry a widower with a two year old girl," Miss E. writes. "I am anxious to do right by this child and be fair. I think many parents unfair to their children, but there are so many problems. What shall I do about bed wetting? About running away? About a refusal to obey and her insistence on touching things she should not? I don't believe in spanking, bribing or coaxing. For I have seen all these tried with indifferent results, but I am so helpless and know so little about child-

LOCAL COUPLE WED YESTERDAY

A wedding of interest to Victorians as well as to many residents on the mainland took place last evening at 8 o'clock at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church when Irene Maud, third daughter of Capt. and Mrs. A. M. Aitken, Linden Avenue, and Mr. Eric Day, son of Mr. George Day of Vancouver and the late Mrs. Day, were united in matrimony by Rev. H. P. S. Luttrel. For the occasion a profusion of autumn flowers and foliage was arranged in the church, the handwork of Mrs. Stuart Robertson, sister of the bride, and friends.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in ivory satin, fashioned with sleeves tight-fitting bodice shirred at sides and in front, while the full skirt touched the floor at the back. A large satin butterfly bow was arranged at the waistline at the back of the bodice. She wore long lace mitts. The conventional wedding veil was of soft silk embroidered with held in place with three strands of orange blossoms. A bouquet of bridal roses, sweet peas and swansons completed the bridal attire.

The bride was attended by her sisters, Mrs. R. Tillyer as matron of honor and Miss Ethel Aitken as bridesmaid. Mrs. Tillyer wore a gown of soft blue lace, fashioned with long full skirt, with three rows of lace frills at the waistline and sleeves bodice with coatee effect. Her hat was of silk mohair to match the color of her dress, and was worn turned back from the face and drooping over her shoulders. She carried a bouquet of delphiniums and carnations.

Miss Ethel Aitken wore a frock of Nile green nylon, in princess style. Girdles of net and lace were inserted into the skirt, reaching to the neckline, and the high waistline was outlined with a band of the nylon, ending in a bow holding in place a cluster of flowers. Her hat was of silk mohair to match her dress and of the same style as that worn by the matron of honor. She carried a sheaf of orange gladioli.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Harold Day, and the ushers were Messrs. Stuart Robertson and Ernest Showers. Mr. Jesse Longfield presided at the organ and played the wedding marches on the arrival and departure of the wedding party, while during the signing of the register Mrs. T. Bowden sang "At Dawning" and "O Promise Me."

Following the ceremony at the church, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 1023 Linden Avenue, where Mrs. Aitken, wearing a smart gown of beige georgette and gold lace, with close fitting hat, assisted in receiving the many guests. Mr. and Mrs. Day left on the midnight boat for Vancouver and prior to returning to Victoria will visit in Seattle and Portland. They will later make their home in the Menzies Apartments. For traveling the bride chose a two-piece suit of brown and fawn tweed, a Nile green blouse and a French felt hat and handsome red fox fur.

Among the many beautiful wedding gifts were a silver tea service from the members of the staff of the Liquor Control Board, of which the bride has been a member for the last three years, and a handsome chiming clock from the firm of Lyman, Gossnson Company Limited, where the groom is a member of the office staff. Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. John Morgan of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hickman of Vancouver and Mr. and Mrs. Tourtelotte of Vancouver.

ROYAL SERVANTS GUESTS AT BALL

King and Queen Entertain Scottish Staff at Balmoral Castle

London, Sept. 19.—While a tempest roared around the turrets of Balmoral, Scotland, the evening's ballroom was the scene of a brilliant gathering, assembled at the King and Queen's periodical ball for the servants of their Scottish estate, Deeside.

Tartan kilts for the men and tartan decorations for the women were the order of the evening. His Majesty wore kilts and a Prince of Wales, who flew from Le Touquet, where he was playing golf, to London, and caught a night train from there to the castle, as also did the Duke of Gloucester and Prince George.

The King did not dance, but genially watched his guests and talked with them. The Queen danced several times, sometimes partnered with her game-keepers and other men servants. There were no modern dances, only such as waltzes, quadrilles and reels.

WOMEN AND RELIEF

Other resolutions adopted were: "Whereas women have always done a great share of the world's work and as the evolution of the present industrial system has forced women out of the home into the competitive labor market, and whereas recent voters' census compiled for recent election showed more women over twenty-one than men in the city of Vancouver and as all relief and work schemes so far promulgated by groups of governments do not take recognition of the needs of women, be it resolved that the Local Council of Women believe that equal consideration and opportunity for work should be given to unemployed women as well as men, and further be it resolved that the Council of Women be the medium for conveying resolution to various authorities concerned, viz., Municipal Council of Women, Dominion Government, and any group interested; whereas it is necessary for the preservation of a nation that high standard of womanhood must be maintained, and as the present economic crisis affects welfare of women as well as men be it resolved that, in our opinion, all conferences for consideration of economic problems women as well as men be invited to participate in deliberations, and wherever boards or commissions are appointed, women as well as men compose boards. That the provincial council convey this resolution to National Council of Women, Provincial Government, Dominion Government and any other interested group."

Other matters discussed were: "That Provincial Council reaffirm their stand taken some time ago that horse racing in British Columbia be shortened owing to the prevalence of unemployment in the province."

V. B. Harrison of Nanaimo, who addressed the council on British Columbia adoption laws, was thanked for his address. In the evening the visiting delegates were entertained at a banquet in Malaspina Hotel, when addresses were given by Mayor Hall, Captain Prittle and W. W. Mitchell.

The following delegates were present: Victoria, Mesdames W. McLean and W. J. Holmes, Vancouver, Mesdames J. A. Clark, E. Nightingale, R. Lebest, J. McLachlan, D. Hall, A. C. Bagley, North Vancouver, Mesdames A. Grand, A. R. Millard, W. F. Hunter, D. Humphrey, J. McLeod, J. Campbell, Nanaimo, Mesdames A. Foster, W. Lewis, T. Spencer, T. Bulman, F. Reynolds, New Westminster, Mesdames E. H. Gibson and C. W. Murray.

USES PINKHAM'S MEDICINES

Praises Vegetable Compound, Blood Medicine and Liver Pills

Birchtown, Quebec—"I live 13 miles from town on a farm, with all my home duties and churning to attend to. At the change of life, I became nervous and run down. The Vegetable Compound helped my whole system. My nerves are better, my appetite is good and I am able to do my work. I have also taken the Blood Medicine and the Liver Pills and they helped me. I will answer letters from women asking about my medicines."—Mrs. RICHARD CHARLTON, Birchtown, Quebec.

NEW SERVICE GIVEN PRAISE

Montreal, Sept. 19.—Travelers and vacationists visiting the Pacific Coast of Canada and the United States are showing increasing attachment to the new ships of the Canadian National Steamships maintaining service along the British Columbia coast, and there is no doubt that the building of these ships and the introduction of new services is greatly appreciated, said Andrew Allan, assistant general manager of the steamship company, on his return to Montreal this week.

Mr. Allan, accompanied by Mrs. Allan, made the trip from Vancouver to Alaska aboard the St. Prince Henry. He found the European-style service struck with the attractions of Alaska, and that they frequently compared the country with Norway. Visiting Prince Rupert, Ketchikan, Wrangell, Juneau and Skagway, Mr. Allan noted a general growth in these communities.

The tri-city route of the Canadian National steamships between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle has proved popular, and there is already a well-established movement of traffic on this run, Mr. Allan said.

TWO FISHING BOATS MEET MISFORTUNE

Alaska Totally Destroyed By Fire and Loyal Runs Aground at Beechy Head

Two sea casualties within twelve hours of each other occurred on the lower end of the island, near Race Rocks, since Wednesday. Wednesday night the fishing boat Loyal ran aground on Beechy Head, and yesterday morning the cannery tender Alaska was totally destroyed by fire, and was run aground at Beechy Bay.

The Loyal is owned in Victoria, and had been fishing off the West Coast of the island. She ran aground in a fog Wednesday evening, but was floated a few hours later by the Sooke Harbor Fishing and Packing Company's boat Empire Cannery. She was then towed into Victoria by the local tug Superge, under instructions from H. A. Barfield, local representative of the San Francisco Board of Marine Underwriters, who made a survey of the damage and temporarily patched the underwater portions with canvas.

Permanent repairs will be effected shortly. Mr. Barfield stated this morning the bow of the ship and the keel are badly damaged.

The Alaska was returning from the West Coast of the island to Vancouver yesterday morning when she broke out. Capt. Russell ran into Beechy Bay and beached her in the hope of saving her, but she was completely destroyed along with the personal belongings and cash of the captain and his assistant, H. Forsyth, who acted as engineer. She owned H. C. Macaulay of Vancouver, and was fifty-two feet in length.

For the mechanical cleaning of windows and skylights, an electrical washer now is available.

SIDEGLITS ON QUEEN VICTORIA IN NEW BOOK

Sir Frederick Ponsonby, Royal Treasurer, Publishes Story of Queen

Royal Difference With Gladstone and Chamberlain Recorded

(By Thomas T. Champion)
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
London, Sept. 19. — "Sideglits on Queen Victoria," published to-day by Macmillan and Company, is a fascinating volume for students of modern constitutional and social history and sheds light, especially upon the relationship of the British sovereign and her ministers. Sir Frederick Ponsonby, who was royal treasurer to the King since 1920, and his father, Sir Henry Ponsonby, was long Queen Victoria's private secretary. Sir Frederick has drawn largely from his father's private letters and while the result contains little in the way of startling revelations, yet it is a volume of interest and value to all who are interested in the relationship between Victoria—beloved of the people if only for the fact that she had a thoroughgoing will of her own—and certain of her advisers.

Most of us have heard she could never get along very well with Gladstone. This Prime Minister once submitted a draft of the Queen's speech to Her Majesty rather late in the day. The Queen straightway told her secretary: "Sir Henry must tell Mr. Gladstone, Lord Hartington and Lord Granville that she will not stand such treatment. Disrespect and contempt of her position she will not tolerate. Mr. Gladstone tries to be a Bismarck, but the Queen will not be an Emperor William to anything he orders."

But Sir Henry Ponsonby sometimes toned Her Majesty's sentiments down when he passed on her messages. "Sir Charles Dilke's tone violated decency," the Queen wrote once. But Sir Henry submitted to the proper quarters that the Queen certainly considers the tone of Sir Charles's speech did not accord with the sentiments she understood Mr. Gladstone conveyed to her.

As for Joseph Chamberlain, Queen Victoria once wrote that she "disliked all he had said." At this time of day, too, it is amazing to be told that when the then aged Gladstone handed in his resignation to the Queen at Windsor, he did not know who was to be his successor and the Queen did not choose to tell him she had asked Lord Rosebery to form a government. There was some make immediately afterwards for Sir William Harcourt, who was waiting with Rosebery, was summoned first into the presence.

One can imagine Lord Rosebery's feelings when his great rival for the premiership was asked to go forward, Victoria, too, was astonished, even if she merely said she regretted there had been a mistake. What she later told Lord Acton, who was managing these high arrangements, is unrecorded.

NEW DISCUSSION OF PARTY UNION IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, Sept. 19.—Comments of The London Daily Herald, ministerial organ, to-day, were that the "dislike" awakened in political circles the oft-heralded talk that the British Liberal and Labor parties might amalgamate.

The Herald mentioned a conversation yesterday between Premier Ramsay MacDonald, Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Rt. Hon. Lloyd George, who is expected to lead the Liberal party. While the conversation might have been supposed to be a mere conversation of recent conferences on unemployment, The Herald said it included a frank discussion of the entire political situation and embraced unemployment, agriculture, the Imperial Conference, India and the League of Nations.

The paper added that while this conversation was in progress, advisers of Mr. Lloyd George consulted other ministers with respect to details of the government's future programme.

People in touch with the London clubs appear well satisfied with the talent they have gathered together. There are, of course, one or two rich clubs, and they intend in the season which began on August 30 to make supreme efforts to regain that pride of place in the football world which they once enjoyed.

Incidentally, the London Welsh Rugby Club, which has done so much to hold aloft the banner of Welsh Rugby in the metropolis, took upon the season's prospects with confidence. They have certainly good talent available.

Relief for Anaemia Depends on Discovery of the Cause

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, The Health Magazine
When a person loses blood repeatedly over long periods of time he becomes anemic. Such a condition occurs when there is cancer or ulcers of the stomach or intestines.
Frequently these complaints may be present over long periods of time without sufficient severity to incapacitate the patient and the very first evidence of their presence may be the appearance of the anemia due to repeated loss of small amounts of blood from the ulcer by way of the excretions of the body.

Anemia may also occur due to serious infection which destroys the blood cells, or by interference with the development of the red coloring matter in the blood.

The various classifications of anemia are important to the physician, because he must have his attack on the diseases on his recognition of its cause in the specific case.
There are, of course, many general methods which may be used in building up the blood and in stimulating the blood forming organs. If there is a persistent infection that is breaking down the blood, the patient may be given a course of treatment which will stimulate the formation of good cells unless the infection that destroys the red coloring matter is in the development of scientific medicine has always played a considerable part. The superstitious magicians of the middle ages used to treat smallpox by putting the patient in a room hung with red curtains because smallpox produced a red eruption. Popular medicine has for years assigned to the taking of blood a valuable virtue in the building of blood.

When it was discovered that the bone marrow was rich in blood, and still later when it was discovered that the bone marrow was important for the formation of red blood cells, attempts were made to overcome anemia by giving extracts of bone marrow. A recent report in which bone marrow was given in almost 100 cases indicates that it does not have much virtue in overcoming anemia. There are, however, some cases which seem to respond remarkably to the bone marrow, and further investigations are being made on the use of this substance.

A great many investigators have found that liver is of value in overcoming diseases of the blood and particularly anemia. On the other hand the extract of liver which is especially valuable in pernicious anemia has not been found of value in secondary anemias. In the secondary form, whole raw liver and whole cooked liver are more effective than is liver extract.

For many years it has been known that iron has virtue in stimulating the proper formation of the blood. Recent investigations have shown that liver with iron is an exceedingly valuable combination for the purpose.

USE BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS
In the most serious cases of anemia there is still plenty of reason for giving blood. The modern physician, however, does not feed the blood to the patient in order that the patient may manufacture blood from the blood that is fed to him. He gives instead transfusions of blood from suitable donors.

The prompt result from this form of treatment indicates that it may be of occasion a life saving measure.

In the majority of cases of anemia, first place is given to the use of a diet rich in vitamins and in blood building materials, such as liver, kidney, red meats, apricots, peaches and prunes, together with large doses of iron. At present, there seems to be little justification for the giving of quantities of whole blood, extracts of spleen, bone marrow or copper.

Two benefit entertainments will be given in Victoria this evening and tomorrow in order to raise further funds for the Blakeburn families who suffered from the recent coal mining disaster in that settlement. To-night Miss Ada Mychrest, British contralto of considerable note, will sing at the Coliseum. To-morrow the Kuntuka Glee Club will hold a silver tea from 3 to 6 o'clock in the New Thought Temple.

At this evening's theatre presentation, Mrs. C. C. Warr, pianist, will accompany the singer and will give her services free of charge.

Interest in the fate of families affected by the death of the four-fifths miners during the explosion has been shown in the steady stream of subscriptions which have come to The Times. While recent donations have not been as numerous as those earlier in the campaign, some, at least, of the citizens realize that the sum secured is not yet large enough to care for the needs of the children and widowed mothers of the district.

DESERVE FAIR CHANCE
The little tots have been handicapped through the loss of their fathers and now standing in peril of suffering from financial stringency. Those who have not yet given to the fund are requested to do their best for the unfortunate families and add their contributions as soon as possible.

To-day The Times acknowledge the gifts of three persons, who registered on the subscription lists as "Friends."

In To Stay
Casters that are always falling out of a place of furniture when it is moved are a nuisance, but they can be put to stay a while by first removing the caster, then pouring melted paraffin into the opening, and as it starts to set, forcing the caster into its place. Allow it to harden well before placing furniture back on its feet.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By SISTER MARY
There is no mystic incantation to pronounce over meringue making. The result may be ethereal, but the procedure is of the earth earthy—by main force and elbow grease.

This stiffly-beaten white of egg is a delightful example of "physical change" without "chemical change." Chemical change of course takes place as soon as sugar is added, but the action of air on the albumen of the egg causes no chemical change. All cooking does with these "changes" is an interesting fashion.

In order that the action of air may be complete, the egg whites must be beaten with a whisk. A dower beater is best, but cannot whip the white as much as the hand. The amount of air into them necessary to make a perfect meringue.

Eggs from three to five days old are most satisfactory. They increase in volume more at this stage of freshness than at any other time. Well-chilled whites will become stiffer than those the same temperature as the room.

Great care must be used in separating the white from the yolk. Even a tiny bit of the yolk prevents the white from beating well. If much of the yolk is broken through the white the egg can be used for some other baking, but not for a meringue. A small amount of yolk can be removed by dampening a soft clean cloth and dipping it into the streak of yolk. Continue to do this until every trace of yolk is removed.

A simple meringue is used for pie and pudding frostings. The recipe follows:

SIMPLE MERINGUE
White one egg, one teaspoon cold water, two tablespoons sugar, quarter-teaspoon flavoring, few grains salt.

Put chilled egg white on a chilled platter. Add water and salt and beat until stiff and dry. Beat in sugar and flavoring and spread on pie or pudding. It can, of course, be piped with a pastry tube. Bake eight to twelve minutes in a slow oven.

A special meringue is made with the whites of two eggs and one-half cup powdered sugar. One tablespoon lemon juice is added for flavoring. The lemon juice also helps to harden the albumen and makes a firm, thick meringue.

Kisses, which are another form of meringue, are used for dessert. They may be used alone or the soft inside can be scooped out, leaving a tender shell for fruit or ice cream.

DAILY MENU
Luncheon — Consommé, toasted crackers, stuffed egg salad, baked quinces on sponge cake, milk, tea.
Dinner — Baked white fish with baked stuffed tomatoes, scalloped potatoes, hearts of celery, fruit custard, tart, milk, coffee.

German silver is so called because the first use of it, as by great extent, was made in Germany. It does not contain a particle of silver. It is an alloy of copper, nickel and zinc.

Ancient Greek ships carried many anchors, one of which, called the "sacred anchor," was never let go unless the vessel was in grave danger.

At a meeting of the New Education Fellowship executive held yesterday afternoon, it was decided to hold the first public meeting under its auspices on Thursday, October 23, B. C. Nicholas, the chairman, presided, and two changes took place in the executive when Captain W. Brown was appointed treasurer in succession to Mrs. J. C. P. Hyndman, and Miss Clay's resignation as convener of the programme committee was accepted with regret. The report on correspondence noted that the organization had sent a criticism, as requested, on the British Columbia "Forces" film, "British Columbia Forests," shown to a group of the members earlier in the summer, and D. Plintoff had written acknowledging this with thanks.

SUPPORT MADE IN CANADA CAMPAIGN

Native Sons Pass Resolution Urging Citizens to Buy Home Products

Urging Victorians to purchase domestic products from business houses owned and operated by local citizens, the Native Sons of Canada, yesterday evening passed a resolution supporting the Made-in-Canada movement.

The resolution read: "Be it resolved, that the members of this Assembly, Native Sons of Canada, are of the opinion that the buying of British Empire products is desirable at all times, and that it is in conformity with this opinion to stress, more particularly at the present time, the desirability of cultivating inter-provincial trade and an effort to increase national prosperity; and, "As the prosperity of the locality in which they dwell is of the greatest importance to the people of any community, the citizens of Victoria should be reminded that they can better serve their own city and fellow citizens by purchasing domestic products, in preference to all others, and from business houses owned by citizens of their own city wherever possible."

Congratulations on steps taken at the recent national convention of the organization to support the Made-in-Canada campaign have been extended to the national president by the head of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, it was announced. Reginald Hayward, M.P., was complimented on his move to have investigation of the question of married women continuing in their positions during hard times.

Accidental Death Verdict of Jury

Special to The Times
Cumberland, Sept. 19.—The adjourned inquest to inquire into the death of James Dick, who was fatally shot on the night of the hunt, was held yesterday in the court house here. Sergeant Mansell, of the provincial police, conducted the case for the Crown and Thred Pearce, barrister of Courtenay, was in attendance in the interests of Daniel Dowling, charged with manslaughter. Dr. E. H. Hicks of Cumberland testified that he was called to the hospital shortly after 1 p.m. on Saturday, September 13, to see James Dick, who had just been brought in. The injured man died about 6.30 the same evening. In witness's opinion death was caused by a gunshot wound and internal hemorrhage. At the post mortem when he conducted, he found the top of the kidney had been punctured. James Williamson, who was with Dick at the time of the fatality, gave evidence and his story was corroborated by Carl Almquist, who was hunting with Dowling. Considerable doubt as to the provincial police gave evidence and a statement made by Dowling to Sergeant Mansell was also read. After several questions by jurymen, they retired to bring in a verdict that James Dick met his death as the result of a gunshot wound inflicted by Daniel Dowling, but in their opinion the act was purely accidental. Chief Allan Rankin announced this morning the police would continue to see that the stop signs placed at intersections on the arterials were strictly observed. Sufficient warning had been given drivers that the rules were now in force and those who failed to stop would be brought to court. Fines of 80 each were imposed on the following: O. Trickett, J. Mulder, R. Antrobus, A. B. Bryant, E. Skelland, J. Harvey and J. McDonald.

SEVEN FINED IN SAANICH FOR NOT STOPPING
First prosecutions of violators of the arterial highway regulations in Saanich were made in Saanich Police Court yesterday afternoon when fines were imposed on seven motorists. Chief Allan Rankin announced this morning the police would continue to see that the stop signs placed at intersections on the arterials were strictly observed. Sufficient warning had been given drivers that the rules were now in force and those who failed to stop would be brought to court. Fines of 80 each were imposed on the following: O. Trickett, J. Mulder, R. Antrobus, A. B. Bryant, E. Skelland, J. Harvey and J. McDonald.

No Trace Found Of Man Believed Drowned on Coast
After a three days search, provincial police have abandoned the quest for the body of D. Fitzmaurice, engineer, who was washed overboard from the fishing vessel Beagle Mack in Esperanza Inlet last week. P.M.L. 7, the police launch stationed at Port Alberni, was engaged in the search, dragging operations being carried on in the area where the man was lost.

CAPITAL CITY COMMITTEE TO SUBMIT PLANS

Park Beautification to Be Discussed at Meeting Next Week

Efforts to have the provincial government undertake improvement of park areas in Victoria will be renewed by the Capital City Beautification Committee on the return of Premier Tolmie from the east next week. The committee, headed by Alderman W. T. Straith will meet next week to consider proposals advanced in connection with development of Beacon Hill Park. A programme for submission to the provincial government will be drawn up and discussed.

Appointment of a park commission to make a survey of the city, and submit plans for its beautification is involved in the scheme. The government was interviewed on the matter several months ago, and the proposals of the committee were received favorably, it is understood.

As well as Alderman Straith, the committee includes Aldermen R. Smith, W. H. Cullen and J. A. Worthington, who sit with the four city members in the legislature. Hon. J. Hinchcliffe, Reginald Hayward, James Beatty and H. D. Twigg. A committee of four named by the Chamber of Commerce will join this group.

"Although it has been suggested that the city undertake development of Beacon Hill Park through a by-law, I feel sure the city cannot carry such a burden," declared Alderman Straith this morning, commenting on the scheme. "The city now spends approximately $87,000 a year on the upkeep of the parks and the added cost would be a heavy one."

FEDERAL CAPITAL
"In any event, the provincial government might well take up the beautification of the Capital City. I believe the Federal government spends something like $250,000 a year in maintenance of Ottawa, the Dominion capital."

"Victoria is noted as a tourist resort. Each year the provincial government makes a grant for tourist purposes, and money is expended for the improvement of the Capital would bring returns in tourist traffic."

CERTIFICATES ARE AWARDED TO GRADUATES

First Year High Students Return to Grade Schools For Special Awards

First Year High School students today invaded the scenes of their former triumphs in the city when they returned to their old grade schools to receive entrance class promotion certificates at Commencement exercises. In addition to the regular certificates awarded to all students who passed the Department of Education examinations in June or were promoted on recommendation, other awards, including manual training and domestic science diplomas, were granted to successful candidates.

Some schools held the formal presentation of cups won in athletic contests during the year, while other prizes won by the 1929-30 Grade VII classes were also distributed to the winners. Musical programmes featured several functions, with the young pupils of the elementary schools providing the entertainment.

DR. CYRIL WACE ON PROBLEM OF CRIPPLED CHILD

Medical Superintendent of Queen Alexandra Solarium Addresses Institute

Colwood, Sept. 19.—The establishment of the Queen Alexandra Solarium was the direct outcome of the action of the British Columbia Association of British Columbia, stated Dr. Cyril Wace, medical superintendent, during his address Wednesday afternoon in Colwood hall at the monthly meeting of the Colwood Women's Institute. On behalf of the board of directors, spoke highly of the splendid assistance given by the past and present members of the institute to the work, and hoped in the future for a greater personal interest, especially in the work of securing the homes.

AFFECTING HOME
The problem of the crippled child affects the home, the community and the state. The cripple is made and not born. Of the 232 cases treated at the Solarium, 112 were cases of congenital deformities. Out of every 100 ninety were preventable by right treatment at the right time. Dr. Wace outlined the chief causes as congenital, error in upbringing, rickets, tuberculosis, infantile paralysis and crippled from accidents.

The ultimate objects of the institution is to relieve the chief causes as congenital, error in upbringing, rickets, tuberculosis, infantile paralysis and crippled from accidents.

NUMBER OF INMATES
At the present time fifty-one children were being treated at the Solarium. Last year one-third were tubercular, and the chief cause as congenital, error in upbringing, rickets, tuberculosis, infantile paralysis and crippled from accidents.

SHIRERS' GENEROSITY
Dr. Wace described briefly the present building, and the new central building would be opened in November, paying tribute to the generosity of the Shrimers of British Columbia and the volunteers.

Miss Kelly, president of the Institute, extended on behalf of the members, a vote of thanks to Dr. Wace for his address, and the chief causes as congenital, error in upbringing, rickets, tuberculosis, infantile paralysis and crippled from accidents.

Mrs. J. Hopwood was appointed delegate to the Institute Conference being held in Victoria October 23.

The matter of placing the cemetery water supply deeper to safeguard against frost, was discussed and was referred to the cemetery committee, consisting of Messrs. E. East and C. Goodall, for consideration.

The meeting decided to ask Miss Lottie Brown to address the November meeting on the matter of schools in outlying areas.

A delicious tea was served by Messrs. J. Hopwood and G. M. Piercy. Bronze corporeal made artistic table decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Piercy have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Moore of Vancouver.

DRIVER FINED AFTER CRASH
When he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving to the common danger on Quadra Street yesterday evening, E. E. Goldsmith was fined $50 by Magistrate J. E. Baker, E. J. East and C. Goodall, for consideration.

Constable F. Woodburn told the court the accused, while driving north on Quadra Street about 11:30 o'clock, crossed into a parking car and then ran his own vehicle on to the boulevard.

"I cannot account for it," the accused said, "but I did not see any tail light on the other car."

SENTENCED FOR THEFT OF WATCH
David Smith, who pleaded guilty in Provincial Police Court this morning to a charge of stealing a watch, was sentenced to two months' imprisonment by Magistrate George Jay.

The offence was alleged to have taken place at Sidney.

R. C. Lowe appeared for the accused.

TOURISTS WERE WELL PLEASED, BUREAU TOLD

Special Agents of Victoria Publicity Bureau Report to Directors

General N. Money of Qualicum Contributes $500 Towards Publicity Work

Tourist traffic in the northern United States, of which Spokane is the centre, fell off this year by between thirty and fifty per cent. Oliver Hollingsworth, special representative of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau at Spokane, this afternoon informed the bureau directors at a luncheon held at the Chamber of Commerce. He expressed appreciation of the co-operation given by the bureau by Spokane officials and newspapers, and recommended that special attention be devoted by Victoria to attracting northbound traffic from California. American tourists had particularly commented at Spokane upon the courtesy of Canadian immigration officials at Victoria.

MANY OREGONIANS
Capt. F. M. O'Connor, special representative of the bureau at Portland, reported that Victoria had been given every co-operation by tourist association officials and officers of transportation concerns. Visits to the smaller centres of Oregon had attained much aid in directing traffic to Victoria. He suggested that the bureau send out letters of thanks to a number of Oregonians.

Tourist traffic had been slow until mid-July when matters improved greatly, with an unusual number of Oregonians traveling to Victoria. Both district agents agreed that the results attained were in great part due to close co-operation given by Commissioner George I. Warren and the Victoria staff of the bureau.

CARAVAN TOUR
Major J. Gordon Smith told of his tour to Hamilton arranged by the Province during the early summer for United States newspaper men. A movie film of 3,000 feet had been taken and would be shown here shortly. Special arrangements had been necessary for the telegraphing of columns of news stories and the caravan had been an excellent means of attracting attention to the tourist advantages of British Columbia. The roads had been unexpectedly good, pleasing the visitors, and the results had been more far-reaching than had been expected.

Major Smith stated that the Automobile Club of California was now preparing for distribution strip maps of the roads in central British Columbia and had placed their resources at the disposal of the Provincial Bureau of Information. He was confident there would next year be a great increase in travel to British Columbia from California.

ISLAND ROADS
President David Leeming urged Victorians to consistently campaign for improvement of the highways of Vancouver Island, the motoring visitors being the most profitable type of tourists to attract. If the roads were not good the tourists would not return, he warned.

Reeve Crouch of Saanich briefly praised the work of the bureau.

BUSINESS AGENDA
The directors appropriated $100 for radio advertising during the winter months, principal contract being a brief nightly announcement over KOMO, Seattle, which will be given twice or thrice weekly immediately preceding Amos 'n' Andy. Nightly announcements over private stations will also be continued, having been very effective last year.

Letters of apology were received from Governor G. A. Parks, of Alaska, that Victoria had been left off the first Alaska Highway folder. A number of Alaskan cities had also been omitted and later editions would remedy the errors, the Bureau was assured.

General Noel Money forwarded a cheque for $500 in appreciation of the excellence of the Bureau's advertising, which he considered had been a material factor in conveying a slow season at Qualicum into a most successful full year.

The board ordered $5,000 additional blue folders, bringing the total issued up to 90,000 for the year.

The directors will defer for one week action on a request from Vancouver for renewed participation in the joint Vancouver-Victoria publicity campaign. The expenditure last year was $5,027, of which Victoria provided $1,800 and Vancouver $4,027. The directors were informed that the results last year had not been considered satisfactory.

CLAIM CITY HAS NO POWER TO TAX MUSIC TEACHERS
Judgment was reserved in the County Court this morning by Judge Lammman at the conclusion of the appeal of G. Jennings Burnett against conviction in the City Police Court on July 24 for teaching music without a trade license. The matter was described by Harold Beckwith, representing Mr. Burnett, as a test case.

The grounds of appeal were that the impost was an indirect tax and therefore illegal and that there was no power vested in the Province to give Victoria City power to impose such a tax.

C. L. Harrison appeared for the Crown and a large number of musicians witnessed the proceedings.

Jordan River
Mr. and Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Hunger and Master Clifford Halliday came down from Port Renfrew on Tuesday to visit friends here.

Mrs. H. Jeune and Miss H. Jeune have returned from Victoria after staying at their home on Fifth Street for a week or so.

Hon. S. L. Howe and Wendy Tolmie returned to Victoria on Wednesday, after spending several days hunting in the Jordan River district.

BEAR SHOT BY DUNCAN BOYS

Second Bruin Brought Down By Douglas Sherman in Lake Cowichan Area

Special to The Times
Duncan, Sept. 19.—While hunting for deer on Monday, Jack Anson and Jimmy Gregory, local boys, succeeded in bagging a black bear weighing about 400 pounds.

They came upon the bear in the Scottish-Palmer slash. He was feeding on bushes about 100 feet away when Jack fired a shot from his 30.06 rifle.

The wound seemed only to enrage the beast and he charged straight at the boys. Jimmy Gregory tried to stop him with a charge of buckshot, but succeeded only in hitting one of the hind legs. The bear was just ten feet away and coming fast when Jack dropped it with a bullet in the shoulder.

Another bear was shot by Douglas Sherman while out deer hunting with J. W. Auchinachie in the Fairview-Gierin limits near Lake Cowichan.

FREEDOM OF LONDON

London, Sept. 19.—The Prime Ministers of Canada, Australia and New Zealand, will be presented with the freedom of the City of London on the occasion of their attendance at the Imperial Conference.

LONDON PAPERS GIVE VIEWS ON NEW TARIFF BILL

Daily Herald and Morning Post Differ on Bennett's Policy For Canada

Canadian Press
London, Sept. 19.—Contrasting views are expressed and the politico-economic aspects of the London dailies are clearly reflected in editorial observations on the upward Canadian tariff revision introduced by Premier P. B. Bennett.

most is debating a bill which would confer on Canada the highest tariff wall known in her history and barricade her markets more severely than ever against British gasoline, earthenware and half a hundred other articles."

BOTH WAYS
The Daily Herald adds:
"It has always been the policy of Beaverbrook to have it both ways, but surely the language of this new tariff is unmistakable. Canada is to be made as economically independent as possible, saying in effect, 'We are ploughing our own furrow and we intend to plant our own seeds.' A few months ago the same words were on the lips of Mr. Macdonald. The industrial Australian market, like the Canadian, was barred and bolted against the intruder. It is time Beaverbrook gave up his make-believe, for the Dominions have never had the slightest intention of playing his game."

CONSERVATIVE VIEW
The Morning Post urges the Macdonald Government to study carefully the steps taken by Premier Bennett. "Unemployment," the Post says, "is an evil to be scotched with energy. All these measures, conceived from a purely Canadian point of view, are excellent and worthy models for this country. The Canadian and Australian governments should properly put the interests of their own countries first. Why should we be alone in the Empire, and indeed, in the world, in not protecting our own interests by some salutary and legitimate means?"

DEFENCE VOTE OF FRANCE IS INCREASED

Budget Calls For 12,200,000,000 Francs For the Various Military Arms

Rambouillet, France, Sept. 18.—An increase of 750,000,000 francs in France's defence budget was made known when the Finance Minister's figures for the next year were handed to the cabinet yesterday.
While Premier Tardieu's economy orders had been made effective and the cabinet had approved the proposals at an over-all figure slightly under the current budget, the total is 50,100,000,000 francs (about $2,000,000,000). About 6,000,000,000 francs were pared off the estimates so taxes might not have to be increased. The war, navy and air ministries and other military departments were allowed 12,200,000,000 francs, nearly one-fourth of the budget. This is three-quarters of a billion francs more than the present budget figures for defence.
In addition there will be available four large extra credits which already have been voted for a vast system of frontier defence. The new budget of frontier defence adopted last spring opens the fiscal year April 1.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

Winnipeg, Sept. 19.—Wheat: The wheat market was extremely weak to-day with prices finally establishing new lows and low records. Early prices declined about 1 1/2 cents based on the weakness in Liverpool, but buying against bids pulled the market up about 1 cent at which level it was steady for a long period with very little going on. However, offerings began to increase with elevator companies hedging and other interests selling away sharply, and while there was some excellent absorption, the market running into foreign bids, on the scale down, the reactions from bottom were very difficult to hold. Overnight sales were very small and news from abroad was anything but encouraging, with some European countries intimating that they did not propose to reduce import duties against foreign wheat. At the same time it was reported that Russia had contracted for wheat to carry 22,000,000 bushels of wheat already sold to Europe and Great Britain, and was offering more at these prices. There was only moderate demand for cash wheat at unchanged spreads. Offerings were not heavy. Low grades are not obtainable in round lots and low grades are too near a carrying charge for principal holders to offer very freely. A little cash business is passing, both domestic and export, but the volume is small. True, the market is much better than it was a few days ago, but the outlook for the future is not bright. Country marketings of wheat in western Canada yesterday 3,065,000 bushels, vs. 4,461,000 a year ago. Liverpool closed 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 lower. Winnipeg futures closed 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 lower, practically on the bottom. Would sell wheat on fair bulges.

Coarse grains: There was very little doing in the market to-day with prices being quite light. There was some inquiry for barley for export, but no business confirmed. The market was weak, largely in sympathy with the sharp decline in wheat.

Flax: Eastern in sympathy with the general trend, but the trade was very light and featureless. Closing prices were 1/2 to 3/4 lower.

Liverpool closed 1 cent lower based on Winnipeg.

Dorothy Dix

Relax or Break, Dorothy insists—High Tension, Overwork or Relentless Tea and Bridge Hopping Raining Health and Dispositions in Mad Efforts of Modern Men and Women

DO YOU profit by the mistakes that other people make, or are you one of those who only learn in the hard school of experience? You see all about you men and women who are wrecking their health and shortening their lives by overwork and overplay. They go the pace that kills. The men are at their offices early and late, "take no vacations." They never rest. They never relax. They have no time for pleasure. No time even for their homes and wives and children. You see women who are making nervous wrecks of themselves over their housekeeping, and who are so peevish and fretful that their husbands and children flee from their immaculate homes as from a pest house. You see other women who have a rendezvous with the undertaker that they are hurrying to keep while they are sprinting from club to club, and bridge party to bridge party, and tea to tea.

Are you one of these work-mad or society-mad men or women who are hurrying to their latter end, or do you take warning by their examples and slow down and take things easier?

You know men and women who are such bores that people flee from them at sight, shirking in horror, because they are egotists who hold up the unfortunate individual who falls into their clutches and discourse by the hour about their personal affairs. You know men who tell you how great and wonderful they are, and what marvelous automobiles they have, and every detail of their business affairs, and how they put over a deal, and what they said to the boss and the boss said to them.

You know women who monopolize every conversation with a monologue about their children. They tell you the smart thing that the baby said and did; about what a genius Tom is and about John's playing on the football team, and Sammy's school report; about Sally's beaux and how many millionaires she could marry and all about Lucy having her hair bobbed and Maud having her adenoids out.

And you know people who enjoy poor health and who tell you of their every symptom and what this doctor said and that doctor said, and other people who have had operations and whose conversation ever after sounds like a report of a clinic.

Are these people a perpetual warning to you to put on the soft pedal when you are tempted to talk about yourself and your belongings, or do you decide yourself into the belief that every one is waiting with bated breath to hear you blow your own horn? Do you believe that your children are so gifted that the general public longs to listen to their infantile bon mots and to learn all the thrilling details of their hobbled school days and drugstore flirtations?

All of us know husbands and wives who stage their fights in public and who seem to wait for an audience before which to tell each other of their faults and shortcomings. All of us have stood helplessly by slain with embarrassment, while husbands told their wives to shut up, they didn't know what they were talking about, or jeered at their wives for telling an old story, or raised ructions about the size of a bill.

And all of us have endured the agony of automobile rides in which the wife was a back-seat chauffeur who kept up a running fire of directions to her husband to go faster or go slower, or to watch out for the traffic cop, or the woman crossing the street, or not to go so near the edge of the road. And we have gone out to restaurants with married couples when the wife berated the husband for the table he selected, or the dinner not being good, or the waiter's service being poor, and we have been at the theatre with husbands and wives when the wife pulled off a far more hair-raising scene with her husband than was done on the stage.

Do you force your innocent friends to assist at your family massacres, or have you enough decency and good taste to wait until you are in the privacy of your own home, with the doors shut and the keyhole stoppered up, before you indulge in your domestic rows?

All of us know men and women who are killing the love of their wives and husbands by their neglect, by their coldness and their selfishness. We can see them paying the way to the divorce courts and laying the axe to the foundations of their homes.

This is Mrs. A., who married a beautiful and attractive girl of an ultra-feminine type, one of the sensitive clinging women to whom love and tenderness are as essential as the air she breathes, but A. is absorbed in his business and his golf and he feels that he does his full duty to his wife when he feeds and clothes her and provides her with a home. He never pays her a compliment, or tells her that he loves her, or shows her any attentions, and we wonder that he hasn't enough intelligence to see that she is quite weeping over his neglect and is beginning to solace herself with the attentions of other men.

There is Mrs. B., who is one of the women who thinks that matrimony gives a woman the right to slump and that it isn't worth while trying to vamp a man any longer after you have caught him. She has let herself get fat and frumpy and dull and uninteresting. There is never a meal in her house that isn't first aid to the corner, and all the conversation her husband gets at home is peevish, fretful, whining and complaining about how bad the children are and why doesn't he make more money.

And we who look on marvel that Mrs. B. can't see that she is driving her husband away from her into the arms of any fairly good-looking woman who is well groomed, and who will flatter and jolly him a little, and that it is just a question of time until A's wife elopes with a girl-love-maker.

Are you profiting by the red lights that the A's and B's hang out as danger signals along the hairpin turns of the matrimonial road where you are likely to skid if you don't drive warily? Or do you vent all your temper and your nerves on your husbands and wives and show them the disagreeable sides of your disposition that you hide from the balance of the world, and expect them to love you still?

All of us know people who are dependent in their old age. In their prime they were money-makers, but they were spenders and indulged themselves in everything they wanted. They never looked forward to the future, and when the rainy day came it found them without any shelter of their own.

Does the plight of these poor old helpless creatures, forced to eat the bitter bread of dependence, knowing themselves a burden and an unwelcome guest even in their children's homes, teach you to save, or are you one of those who live up to their income and thus prepare the same fate for yourself?

"Experience is a hard school," said wise Benjamin Franklin, "but fools will learn in no other."

Horoscope

SATURDAY, SEPT. 20, 1930

Astrologers read this as rather an unfavorable day in planetary direction. The early and late hours are more fortunate than the noon and afternoon.

In the morning there is an aspect mildly hopeful for those who seek work or hope to obtain promotion.

Women are well directed in so far as they pursue regular routine, for they may easily cause dissensions or incur criticism under this planetary arrangement.

This is an auspicious wedding day, although it seems to promise more or less financial struggle.

Engagements to marry contracted to-day may bring about criticism and even opposition from family connections, even though they are wise.

This is believed to be a depressing day for older persons who may be exacting in their demands and inclined to criticize the new generation.

It is well to be cautious in any sort of venture to-day when there is an aspect that encourages deceit and falsehood.

The seers prophesy a period when there will be a renaissance of truth and a severe arraignment of every sort of dishonesty.

Astrologers warn that crime and vice will increase as long as the men and women who have been favored by the stars fail to hold to exalted standards of living.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the surgery of a year in which there may be a decided spiritual awakening. Children born on this day probably will be intensely sympathetic and imaginative. The subjects of this sign usually see the extremes of comedy and tragedy in life.

Metchosin

A meeting of the directors and special committees of the Metchosin Women's Institute was held at the hall to-day to discuss plans for the pioneer entertainment to be held on October 24. H. C. Helgesen has consented to arrange a short musical programme, and also hopes to secure the services of a Duncan orchestra to provide the music for the old-time dances. It was proposed to invite Mayor Anson to attend the entertainment and give a ten-minute address.

Mrs. McVicker and Mrs. G. F. Walde will be delegates to the district conference of Women's Institutes to be held in Victoria on October 22 and 23.

Members of the National British Agricultural Union party yesterday called here en route to Sooke to inspect the flock of registered Suffolk sheep belonging to A. C. McVicker. The party was accompanied by William J. Bonavia, D. Gunn and T. Cochrane.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Magnificent British Spectacle
of the Sea Will Show Seven Days at Coliseum

Ellaline Terriss, Seen Here on the Stage, Heads Brilliant
English Cast

That much heralded and much discussed British picture "Atlantic," spoken of as the greatest picture of the sea ever filmed, will open a seven days' run at the Coliseum Theatre tomorrow evening. A large number of Victorians saw this wonderful film on Wednesday morning when Manager McGrath, of the Coliseum, had a special private showing. All who saw it were greatly impressed and left the theatre thoroughly satisfied that "Atlantic" was all advance notices had said about it and that it would long be looked upon as one of the greatest pictures of the sea ever filmed. Gripping in the extreme, yet horrible in its truth of a great sea disaster, "Atlantic" is bound to thrill all who see it. Moments when a great ocean liner, her decks black with people, sinks beneath the freezing waters of the black Atlantic, are realistically portrayed. The great ship is shown sinking slowly beneath the surface of the boiling sea. All Victorians who love a thrill would be well advised to see "Atlantic" during the seven days that it is showing at the Coliseum. It is an unusual picture, unusual for its triumphs of filming and one that British producers will long point to as a masterpiece. It was predicted in the columns of the London Daily Mail that if opportunity were seized, the advent of talking pictures might—and obviously could—spell a new importance for London as a film-producing centre of the world. Already London has proved its ability to overcome insuperable language difficulty that talking films present by taking Berlin by storm with the London-made picture, "Atlantic," produced in Germany with a brilliant German cast, as well as in England with a brilliant cast. Some of the scenes were made on a liner at Tilbury docks, in the heart of London, and others at Eilat. A brilliant cast of players appears in "Atlantic" including many English actors and actresses well-known to the London

"QUEEN HIGH" NOW AT THE DOMINION PROVED EXPERIMENT

Because the players on the talking screen are "larger" and thus seem nearer to the eyes of the audience, the acting tempo is much faster than the acting tempo of the stage.
Frank Mandel, of Schwab and Mandel, Broadway's successful producers of "Good News," "Follow Through," "New Moon" and "Queen High" discovered this when preparing the original stage production of "Queen High" for the screen, now showing at the Dominion Theatre. Mandel had been told that much of the original would have to be eliminated to fit into the time, about an hour and fifteen minutes, of an average length feature picture. He didn't think so.
Accordingly he set a stop-watch and enacted every part of the original show at motion picture tempo. He found that this process took him an hour and fifteen minutes.
Charlie Ruggles and Frank Morgan, two Broadway veterans of fun-making, head the comedy support. Stanley Smith, who was Nancy Carroll's boy friend in "Sweetie" and "Honey," and Ginger Rogers, the "cigarette me" girl of "Young Man of Manhattan," are the romantic leads in this amusing tale of big business and monkey business.

ADA MYLCHREEST IN FINE CONCERT AT THE COLISEUM

Miss Ada Mylchreest, one of Canada's most popular contraltos, will appear in concert at the Coliseum Theatre this evening in a programme of popular and classical numbers in connection with the picture "Dynamite." The following critique taken from the Toronto Mail and Empire:
"Ada Mylchreest gave a recital in Hart House recently, and although her programme was a generous one, numbering fourteen songs, when she bowed for the last time, not one member of the audience made a move to leave. Even two encores failed to satisfy them."
"The richness of the singer's dramatic contralto voice and her clearly enunciated, deeply expressive interpretation of her songs won them completely. Her personality pleased them, too, for she made an impressive figure against the dull green curtains, with her smoothly parted black hair and her flowing black gown with its oddly effective panels in geometric design."

MOUNT RAINIER IN WASHINGTON USED FOR FILM SETTING

One of the most beautifully scenic regions in the U.S. furnishes the background for "Rough Romance," Fox Movietone drama of the great north woods now playing at the Playhouse Theatre.

All of the exterior sequences of the picture, which was directed by A. F. Erickson and features George O'Brien, Helen Chandler, Antonio Moreno and Noel Francis, were taken in the majestic Cascade Mountains of Washington, on the slopes of the beautiful and famous Mount Rainier and in nearby logging camps.

A company of fifty-five actors, technicians and helpers went north from the Fox studios to film the picture, taking with them two teams of malamutes used in filming stirring dogged races in the snow.

MUSICAL ROMANCE OF AFRICAN TRIBES SHOWS AT CAPITOL

Fire has been photographed in all its lurid terror and for the first time in "Golden Dawn," the Technicolor musical romance, now at the Capitol Theatre.
Fire and water play important parts in this dramatic story of interior Africa, where native superstition and ignorance clash with the opposing forces of civilization. "Golden Dawn" is photographed in full natural colors throughout, catching all the natural beauty of the jungle and the tropics and the process shows for the first time the true glory of fire and its myriad colors and shades.

Warner Brothers, who offer "Golden Dawn" as an outstanding feature picture, have spared no time and money in making it an elaborate production. Walter Woolf, Vivienne Segal, Noah Beery, Alice Gentile and Lupino Lane head an all-star cast. Ray Enright directed.

UPROARIOUS COMEDY WITH HELEN KANE IS COLUMBIA FEATURE

In this uproarious fun and music story of a traveling "medicine show" which gets stranded in the wilds of the glamorous Canadian Northwest, Erwin is seen as a callow son of riches whose big ambition is to become an ace soloist on the saxophone.
